

MANY DEAD.

An Awful Explosion Occurred in a Detroit Factory Today.

At Least Sixteen and Possibly Fifty People Were Killed.

It is Impossible at Late Hour This Afternoon to Estimate Total Loss of Life—Many Missing—Partial List of Injured—Cause Unknown.

DETROIT, MICH., NOV. 26.—(Bulletin.)—AT 3:30 P. M. THE DEATH LIST HAS MOUNTED TO SIXTEEN. THERE ARE MORE BODIES UNDER THE RUINS BUT WHETHER THE DEATH LIST WILL REACH 50 AS REPORTED THIS AFTERNOON IS NOT NOW KNOWN.

DETROIT, NOV. 26.—(Bulletin.)—IT IS IMPOSSIBLE AT THIS TIME TO ESTIMATE THE LOSS OF LIFE IN TODAY'S EXPLOSION. IT WILL BE MORE THAN TWELVE AND IT MAY REACH FIFTY. MANY MORE STILL MISSING THIS AFTERNOON. NO CAUSE IS GIVEN FOR THE EXPLOSION.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 26.—(Bulletin.)—It is now reported that fourteen bodies have been removed from the wreck of the Pembrey explosion.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 26.—The explosion of a boiler in the new engine room of the Pembrey Injector company, corner Abbott street and Brooklyn avenue, at 9:30 o'clock this morning completely wrecked the addition recently erected and buried the large portion of the 100 employees in the debris.

The silence that followed the terrible shock was enormously suggestive. It is feared that the 12 deaths reported do not begin to measure the extent of the fatalities. Twenty-one have been taken to the hospital in a serious condition. Burns, bruises and lacerations tell the story of the horrible experiences of those who were

CLOCK STOPPED WHEN EXPLOSION OCCURRED.

SAFE BLOWERS WORK AT NEW LEXINGTON THIS MORNING.

BETWEEN $100 AND $200 GONE

Operator in Another Building was Told by a Naked Man to Go and Sit Down.

New Lexington, O., Nov. 25.—Safe blowers broke into the C. & M. V. and T. & O. C. joint depot and cracked the safe, getting between $100 and $200, at 1:52 this morning, as the clock stopped at this time.

No one heard the explosion as the depot is a half mile from the town. The telegraph office is in a separate building and when the operator heard the explosion he ran to the door and a masked man told him to go back and sit down, and he did so.

The operator telephoned to the sheriff, who, with the deputy and blood-plying their tasks when the shock came. No one can be living under the mass of brick and timber. Five engines are playing on the smoldering pile while volunteer rescuers are digging in the mass.

Boiler Inspector Hugh Guy arrived a few moments after the explosion. He says he cannot tell the cause of the explosion at this time. The building contained two horizontal boilers, one upright boiler. One of the horizontal boilers is partly exposed and shows a large dent.

The dead: Richard Ryan.

The injured: Wm. Knapp, seriously scalded and burned; Julius Liebrecht, seriously; — Liebrecht, his son, badly hurt; Stephen Naphigal, may recover; John Schoenbold, seriously; P. D. Crowley, may recover; Lew Miller, unconscious; Bert Martin, unconscious; Gus Galley, unconscious; John Wastkiley, unconscious; August Handred, not seriously; Wm. Ager, boy, may not recover; W. T. Deranger, Ignatius Becker, scalded; Wm. Bergman, scalded and burned; John Fry, assistant engineer, badly burned; may die; aged man unknown, probably fatally burned; Samuel Kolpe, not seriously; Bert Dixon, not seriously; John Dingel, not seriously; John Vogt, badly burned and bruised; Jas. Noll, burned and bruised seriously; Anthony Walker, nose broken and head badly lacerated; Herman Goldmer, badly burned; John Hueflein, burned over entire body; A. P. Gidday, seriously burned over entire body; Fred Klein, severe scalp wound.

hounds, took up the trail and followed it a half mile south along the T. & O. C. railroad, and lost it. At that point a freight train went by and it is supposed part of the gang got on the train. A horse and buggy was stolen from the barn of C. M. Harrison, where some of the robbers left their masks. It is supposed that there were five or six men in the gang, but they left no clue as to their identity.

FEE FACTORY

One of Newark's Newest Industries Doing a Thriving Business in Hardwood Lumber.

The Fee Hardwood Manufacturing Company, one of the latest and best enterprises of the West End, is doing an extremely large business at present. They buy hardwood logs of all kinds and saw them into lumber, especially for furnishings, veneering and fine finishing purposes. The mill makes a big market for our home hardwood lumber, and processions of wagons with big logs can be seen moving every day in the direction of the manufacturing plant. The lumber, when manufactured, is partly consumed here, but the greater part of it is shipped all over the country in different directions.

FIRED

Killing Guilty Wife and Then Shot
Again, Ending Life of His Wife's Lover.

Paris, Nov. 26.—A terrible double tragedy occurred this morning in the place De L'Opera, opposite the Cafe Paix, one of the busiest centers of Paris. A gentleman, M Thion stopped the carriage occupied by his wife and her lover. The husband opened fire with a revolver and killed his guilty wife, whereupon her lover opened the carriage door and started to run. The aggrieved husband fired again, killing the lover. Thion has been arrested.

STREAM OF WATER

POURED UPON GIRLS AND BOYS
AT OXFORD.

Oxford, O., Nov. 26.—The social circles of classic Oxford are in a ferment of excitement over the flag rush at Miami University. The freshmen and 10 lady members of their class resolved to plant their flag on the high tower of the main building and paint the bull's eye. They succeeded in doing so, but were checked in their work by the sophomores, who at once visited Secretary S. H. Allen, of the water plant and were granted permission to use the fire plug near the building. Hose was obtained from the Chief of the Fire Department and then the trouble commenced. A steady stream of water was poured into the tower until the girls were nearly drowned. Bricks were thrown through the windows and not less than 75 panes of glass were broken. Several of the students were badly bruised and scratched.

Finally the freshmen retreated and the flag was taken down by the sophomores, cut into pieces and distributed among the members of the class, who made handkerchiefs with the strips. This is the first time in the history of the university that the sophs dislodged the colors of the freshmen.

MASS

REMAINS

OF THE FOUR GIRLS BURNED AT KNOXVILLE.

THE CONDITION OF THE PARENTS

Is Critical, Though Mrs. Miller is Somewhat Improved Today—Funeral
This Afternoon.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 26.—This morning mass was celebrated by Rev. A. Schaub, at St. Georges R. C. church, Knoxville, over the charred remains of the four daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Miller, victims of yesterday morning's fire at their home, and at 2 o'clock this afternoon four white hearses conveyed the remains from the residence of John Bower, a relative, to their final resting place.

The condition of both Mr. and Mrs. Miller is today regarded by the attending physicians as critical. It is now feared that Mr. Miller received serious internal injuries and his recovery is a matter of much concern. Mrs. Miller is somewhat physically improved, but her mental condition is pitiful in the extreme. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Miller has been able to see any of their children, living or dead, since the awful catastrophe and did not attend the funeral. The two younger daughters have almost fully recovered and attended the funeral of their sisters this afternoon.

Found Dead.

New York, Nov. 26.—W. P. Wheeler, 63 years old, of Detroit, Mich., was found dead this morning in an obscure hotel on Third avenue. Apoplexy was probably the cause. Wheeler had recently been employed as advertising agent for a Philadelphia firm.

ANGRY MOB

Roughly Handled a Federal Jury in Texas Owing to a Decision Rendered Monday.

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 26.—An angry mob handled Federal Judge Dennee roughly at Roff, I. T., Monday and the demonstration almost ended in a tragedy. The trouble was caused by a decision by the Judge, liberating a negro who had a difficulty with a white man in which both were courted when Judge Dennee left the court he was attacked by a young man implicated in the stabbing and by a crowd of sympathizers. The people of Roff are greatly excited over the incident.

KITCHENER'S REPORT.

London, Nov. 26.—General Lord Kitchener in his weekly report states that the Boer casualties since November 18 have been 23 killed, 19 wounded, 230 captured and 5 surrendered.

WINDOW BROKEN

And Furs Were Stolen From a Cincinnati Show Window Early This Morning.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 26.—Theodore Dietrich's fur store at 120 West Fourth street, was the scene of a robbery early this morning. The heavy glass window was broken with a boulder, making an opening large enough to admit a man's body. About 20 pieces of valuable furs were distributed about the window, including a seal jacket on a dummy figure. Twenty-four pieces valued at $723.25 were taken, including the dummy on which the sack hung. There was nothing stolen except what was in the window.

BROKE DOWN—As the driver of one of Zentmyer's coal wagons was driving around the public square this afternoon with a heavy load of coal, one of the axles of the wagon broke, letting the load down in the street.

QUIET

TODAY ON THE ISTHMUS OF PANAMA.

REBELS DISLODGED BY TROOPS AT TWO POINTS.

OFFICIALS ARE VERY CONFIDENT

Uncle Sam's Boys are Guarding the Railroad Across the Isthmus
With Guns on Trains.

Washington, Nov. 26.—The action of the United States in landing marines and blue jackets at Colon and Panama, has been attended with most successful results. The line of railroad has been opened for traffic from end to end and transit is now uninterrupted. Captain Perry has established detachments of his men at various stations along the line and each train that crosses is accompanied by a guard of United States soldiers with loaded guns ready to clear the way of any obstruction that may be offered. So far all is quiet.

Colon, Colombia, Nov. 26.—General Alban and men left Panama by train for Empire station where the Liberals are reported to be in fairly strong numbers. His purpose was to surprise and rout them. The train bearing these troops was held up just before it arrived at Culebra station owing to the Liberals opening fire on Alban's advance guard. Alban disembarked his men from the train, which returned to Panama. The fighting at Culebra lasted from 4:40 until 9 p. m. The government troops advanced and the fighting was stubborn all along the railroad line until Empire station, a mile and a half distant, was reached. The Liberals retreated slowly, Alban's men following them until the latter eventually reached Matachin station, where General Alban met and conferred with Captain Perry of the Iowa, who was returning from Colon on an armored train. It is understood that Captain Perry will not allow the railroad to transport troops, consequently General Alban and his men were forced to push ahead on foot. It is said here that they thus reached San Pablo, where the Liberals are in force, and that fighting is taking place there. The Liberals are under the command of General Liege. Between the stations of Culebra and Empire over 150 killed and wounded men could be seen along the track. The sight was gruesome. There is no proper Red Cross organization and the wounded lacked care. The Liberals at Colon declare the majority of the men killed on the line to be Conservative troops, and that the rebels are still in force along the railroad.

In government circles in Panama there is still entire confidence in General Alban, and it is believed there that this Conservative general is able to cope with the present situation and skillfully overcome the apparently insurmountable difficulties before him.

An armed guard of marines from the battleship Iowa has re-established transit across the isthmus, and details from the Iowa's marines are now protecting each passenger train.

At a conference held on board the British cruiser Tribune, at which General Ignacio Feliaco, Senor De La Rosa, secretary of General Diaz, and the commanders of the foreign ships were present, the general agreed, at the request of the naval commanders, and on the ground of humanity, having in view the large foreign population of Colon, not to land troops here or open fire on the town before 6 o'clock Friday evening.

Bombardment Improbable.
Washington, Nov. 26.—It is pretty well understood here that there is to be no bombardment of Colon by either side. While Commander McCrea was given wide discretionary power and nothing was said to him about stopping the bombardment directly, nevertheless the state department established a precedent in these matters last year when it instructed Mr. Guder to warn some insurgents at Panama that they would not be allowed to bombard that port. If the government troops on the Pinzon should persist in their purpose it is said that the commanders of the various warships at Colon would require that ample time be allowed for the withdrawal of foreigners, and the attacking force, to escape restraint, would be obliged to direct their bombardment with such rare precision as to destroy the insurgent defenses without harming the railroad property, and even without endangering the passage of trains, conditions probably not to be met.

Government in Control.
Washington, Nov. 26.—The secretary of the navy called Captain Perry of the Iowa to assume full command of all the United States naval forces on both sides of the isthmus, in order to insure harmonious operations. Consul General Guder's first dispatch was as follows: "Our troops have arrived at Matachin, one-half of the way across the isthmus. No obstruction, and Colombian government seemed to be victorious over the insurgents."

SUICIDE

Of a Beautiful Cincinnati Girl Who Says Man Broke His Promise to Her.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 26.—Florence Ann Yates, age 24, noted as one of the most beautiful young women in Cincinnati, committed suicide this morning by taking carbolic acid. She told her mother that she had ended her life because a young man prominently connected, had failed to keep his promise to marry her. Miss Yates was employed as a saleswoman.

WILKING

Arrest Made.

Zanesville, O., Nov. 26.—A dispatch from the scene of Sunday's tragedy in which Robert Wilking was killed says that Wilking's remains were taken today to St. Clairsville, the deceased's father being a prominent man there. Jacob Stokes who shot Wilking will quickly recover. It is said today that his sight will be saved.

Young Stokes, who did the killing after Wilking had shot at his father and mother, has not been arrested.

ADVISED

MRS. BONINE NOT TO MAKE A STATEMENT

UNTIL THE SUICIDE THEORY WAS TESTED.

GEORGE GARDNER ON THE STAND

He Tells of Call Mrs. Bonine Made on Him Ayres' Death—Progress of the Trial.

Washington, Nov. 26.—Little progress has been made by the government in fastening blood-guilt upon Mrs. Bonine, charged with the murder of James S. Ayres. The testimony thus far has brought out none of the requisites upon which a conviction could be based. But for Mrs. Bonine's previous confession that Ayres met his death in the course of a struggle between them for the possession of a revolver with which he had threatened her, there would be nothing in the testimony adduced to connect her more than casually with the case. All the testimony pertains to the finding of the body and to the flight of a woman in black from Ayres' room through the window, down the fire escape. The condition of the body and the room has been minutely described but there is nothing thus far to show who committed the crime or why it was committed.

George B. Gardner, who lived at the Kenmore hotel, when Ayres was shot by Mrs. Bonine, said today: "She came to my room the evening after the tragedy and told me that Ayres had asked her to call as he was ill. She was called 'He attacked me,' she said, 'and in the scuffle he was shot and killed.'"

She told Gardner that Ayres was under the influence of liquor. Gardner said further: "My advice to Mrs. Bonine was to make no statement until it had developed whether or not the theory of suicide would hold."

Washington, Nov. 26.—The trial of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine for the murder of James Seymour Ayres, Jr., at the Kenmore hotel last May, is on in real earnest. Baker, the man who saw Mrs. Bonine descend the fire escape; Hopkins, who roomed under Ayres; and Miss Lawless and Miss Minas, who roomed on either side of him, testified. Policeman Drew testified that there was room enough behind the door of Ayres' room for a man to have been there while the door was opened to admit another person, a contention which the prosecution deny, and also that there were empty cartridges in Ayres' room before the pistol with which the shooting was done was emptied by Officer Brady after the tragedy. This would tend to establish the theory of the defense that the pistol belonged to Ayres. Miss Minas testified that Ayres and Mrs. Bonine ate ice cream and cake in her room the night before the tragedy, and at the time there was no evidence of ill-feeling.

MRS. BONINE, WHO IS ON TRIAL FOR THE MURDER OF JAMES S. AYRES.

IN the courtroom where, nineteen years ago, Charles J. Guiteau was tried for the assassination of President Garfield, Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine is now on trial, charged with the murder of James Seymour Ayres in the Kenmore hotel, Washington, on May 15 last. Although Mrs. Bonine has confessed that she was in Ayres' room when he was killed, the case will be almost wholly a circumstantial one.

It is an incident strongly reflecting Irish sentiment on the Boer war that Colonel Arthur Lynch has been elected to the house of commons from Galway by a vote of 1,247 to 43. He takes the place of a Liberal-Unionist and is a gain for the Irish Nationalists. But it is not probable that Colonel Lynch will be allowed to take his seat in parliament. That is too much to expect, as he went to South Africa early in the war and had a colonel's command in fighting with the Boers against the British. If he attempts to take his seat in parliament, being now on the continent, it is reported that he will be arrested for treason.

KITCHEN HELPS.

To clean a greasy sink a little paraffin oil, rubbed on with a piece of flannel, will save a great deal of trouble.

Ordinary tea marks on china may be readily dissolved by scrubbing with a soft brush dipped in salt water and vinegar.

If new tinware is rubbed over with fresh lard and thoroughly heated in the oven before it is used, it will never rust afterward, no matter how much it is put in water.

A good way to clean zinc utensils is to dip a piece of cotton in kerosene and rub the articles with it until the dirt is removed. Dry afterward with a clean cloth so as to get rid of all grease.

For stained tinware borax produces the best results. If the teapot or coffee pot is discolored on the inside, boil it in a strong solution of borax for a short time, and all its brightness will return.

Pans and kettles partly filled with water should not be placed on the range to soak, as it only makes them harder to clean. They should be filled with cold water and be kept away from the heat.

IMMORTAL J. N.

To Enter the Field of Journalism—Will Raise the Veil Through the Press It's Said.

The "Immortal J. N. Free," says the Mansfield Shield, is quite well known to many of the citizens of Mansfield he having at different times been a visitor in the city at which times he has promised to "raise the Veil" but for some unaccountable reason the gods have not been propitious at any time and our beautiful city remains under the veil, and a few months ago it looked as though she would forever remain in this condition when it was reported that this noted character was at death's door. There is still hope, however, for "J. N." promises to return and it is hoped that this great feat which he holds the power to perform, may yet be performed and our city be liberated from darkness which has overhung ever since "Immortal" undertook his great mission.

"J. N." has determined that he has been working in the wrong sphere and has determined that he will enter the field of journalism, and the following from the St. Louis Post-Dispatch tells the whole story and comes to the world of journalism as an ultimatum:

"J. N." closes on the press of the nation. This is a rumor that comes from the far west. J. N., the only philosopher, after having been enshrouded with his few friends for over two score years will soon demand of the press of the nation the publication of his views and thus relieve the crushing veil that has blocked his pathway of disinterested truth. This comes from a friend of J. N. who will shortly have a notice published in partial defense of J. N.'s cause and principles, as he is too modest to defend himself, and as he cannot lecture on his cause, he will ask some of his selected disciples to vindicate his principles."

Looking Ahead.

"Why did you sit up so late last night, Joseph?" asked the amateur politician's wife.

"I was busy fixing up a lot of anecdotes about myself and writing out stories of me when I was a boy, so that I won't have to be bothered with these things when I become great."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Mr. Fox—Very nicely indeed. She's being educated in the higher branches.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Wise Man.

I'd hate to be as wise as him who really knows it all. He sorter feels responsible. Water-r may be all right, but when everything is just as done, the alibi has his say. An' tells you must emphasize that. He knowed a better way.

That fellow's conscience, I should think, would spoil his sleep at night. Four him anywhere except 'The Unhappy of the night.' A man that knows as much as him should set the whole world straight. 'Laid 'em tellin' how to do. When it is all too late.

ONLY A SLIP OF PAPER

Twelve years ago the firm of Wade, Scale & Co. of Chicago received an order from John Fox for 400 bags of sugar, each bag to weigh 100 pounds. The order was filled, the bill paid, and the transaction closed.

One day recently a man with a sombrero on strolled into the office of Wade, Scale & Co. He took the blank slip of paper offered him and wrote this on it:

Mr. Nobody, from Nowhere. This is my name until after our conversation.

"Give that to the boss," he said, "and tell him I think he'll be glad to see me." Curiosity more than anything else led the staid and dignified Mr. Wade to allow this unconventional visitor a chance to get into his private office. Once there, Mr. Nobody said, "If I'll show you where there is $1,500 due this firm and easily collectible, $1,500 that you know nothing about, what will the information be worth to me?"

"I don't see how it's possible," said Mr. Wade, "that even with our great business there could be that large amount due us and we know nothing about it."

"Tell me what it's worth to me if my information is correct—and I'll prove to you by your own books inside of five minutes that it is correct—and then we'll proceed to business."

"Information that this firm is so foolish as not to know that an easy collectible $1,500 is due is worth $50 to any man who will prove it. Show me that we are such business idiots, and I'll give you $50 right out of my own pocket. More than that, if by the faintest chance what you say should prove true and we can collect the $1,500, I'll give you a third of it."

The sombreroed stranger went down into an inside pocket. "Go to your books Sept. 12, 1889," he said.

Mr. Wade went to his books. There, after the stranger had mentioned an invoice number, they found what in a nutshell was this: "Shipped to John Fox, Bicknell, Ariz., 400 bags of sugar of 100 pounds each—40,000 pounds."

"Now turn to your books of Jan. 14, 1890."

It did not take Mr. Wade and his bookkeeper more than a minute to find out that instead of sending a bill for 40,000 pounds of sugar to John Fox they had sent him a bill for 400 pounds, a bill which he had paid promptly. A receipt had been sent Mr. Fox and the transaction closed, and the error had never been discovered. There was due the firm of Wade & Scales from John Fox $1,500 and interest thereon for something like twelve years.

"You see," said the visitor, "I was Mr. Fox's bookkeeper for years and years. When the bill for 400 pounds of sugar came in, I said, 'I'll pay the bill as it stands, and if they ever send a bill for the remaining 3,600 pounds I'll pay that, too, but I guess we don't need to worry about the mistake.' The other day John Fox kicked me out of his employment for a trivial mistake—kicked me out penniless at that. What I am doing now you may consider a piece of revenge. So it is largely, but I also need money."

The westerner left the place with $50 in his pocket, and the next mail took a bill to John Fox for $1,500 plus the interest for twelve years. Actuated by curiosity to know how the man would explain the matter, Mr. Wade inclosed with the bill a query as to why, having received 40,000 pounds of sugar, Mr. Fox had sent on pay for only 400 pounds.

Within a week a check for the full amount of the bill and interest was received. John Fox was too good a business man not to know that he must pay instantly, but as far as his dishonesty was concerned this is what he said in his letter, the only bit of writing that appeared except the name and figures on the check:

Sandusky—The local coal trust which Bert Smith, an independent dealer, is suing for $100,000 damages for the alleged ruining of his business, sets forth the unique claim that Smith is suing himself. He applied for admission into the trust. The result was never made known to him, but the trust people claim that he was elected a member.

Tiffin—Dr. Clifford Hayford of Toledo, went to Central Michigan on a hunting expedition, taking with him his father's setter, but 18 months old. He drove into the swamps, where he became separated from the dog. He drove back to town and waited till night for the animal to put in an appearance. He then telegraphed to his father in this city, acquainting him of the loss. Sunday afternoon the animal arrived at the home of Frank Lang, here, where he was raised. The dog was very muddy and almost exhausted. It is estimated that the dog traveled a distance of several hundred miles.

Why She Was Worried.

Hortense—Sadie, I don't know whether to be mad or glad. I wonder if it was a compliment or an insult.

Sadie—For mercy's sake, what are you talking about?

Hortense—Oh, I haven't told you, have I? Well, I got on a car, and every seat was taken. A gentleman offered me his seat.

Sadie—And you took it, of course.

Hortense—Yes, but that isn't the thing. I wonder if he gave me his seat because he thought I was an old woman.

A Parisian actress who had for some time been suffering losses of jewelry determined to set a trap for the thief. Presently a staid old man hopped through the window, seized the bracelet and deposited it in the chimney, where all the missing jewelry was subsequently found.

STATE NEWS

HAPPENINGS IN ALL PARTS OF OHIO.

All Sorts of Buckeye News Items Boiled So that Only Real Facts Remain.

Springfield—Jeff Hoffer, a brakeman, was fatally injured by a yard engine. Hoffer became rattled, and was unable to move when the engineer sounded his whistle to warn him of his danger.

Toledo—Daniel O'Shea is a physical wreck, the result of two weeks of sleepless nights. The man was brought to the Central Police Station at the request of his relatives. He had acted strangely and they feared that he might do some one harm. After he was placed in custody a physician was called and he was given something to quiet his nerves. O'Shea was transferred to the Infirmary Hospital. He is 38 years of age, a railroad man and has not slept for 15 days or nights.

Columbus—Two cases of actual starvation came to the notice of city officials yesterday. Mrs. Susie Smith and her son and daughter, aged 3 and 7, had been without food since Saturday. Her husband is in the workhouse. Julia Graham, with two children, aged 2 and 4, were without food and ill. Graham is in the penitentiary.

Ottawa—Emma Ernest, the young woman who Saturday tried to commit suicide by taking chloroform because her sweetheart's arm had been amputated, yesterday afternoon fell into a stupor, from which the doctors are unable to arouse her.

Akron—James Derrig, a well known South Akron man, has lost his voice from fright. Two weeks ago Derrig was called to his door at midnight and two masked men ordered him to quietly step aside and let them go through the house. Derrig sought to protest, but could not speak and so obeyed. He has been unable to talk, even in a whisper, since then.

Columbus—Samuel Brooker, a penitentiary prisoner from Cuyahoga county, has been removed from the "trust" grade and placed back of the walls. He had been assistant bookkeeper in the Warden's office, and in that capacity nothing was between him and freedom. He has been missed several times lately. Yesterday Deputy Warden Long instituted a search for Brooker, and found him away from the penitentiary. It is said that he has been flirting with female visitors to the penitentiary.

Findlay—Mrs. Lydia Erb was buried here. She died last week at the state asylum for the insane at Columbus, where she had been confined since 1861. For 40 years she has been hopelessly insane, and in the meantime her husband and six children and many grandchildren have passed away. The funeral was in charge of her remaining son, Harry Erb, a decrepit old soldier.

Sandusky—The local coal trust which Bert Smith, an independent dealer, is suing for $100,000 damages for the alleged ruining of his business, sets forth the unique claim that Smith is suing himself. He applied for admission into the trust. The result was never made known to him, but the trust people claim that he was elected a member.

Tiffin—Dr. Clifford Hayford of Toledo, went to Central Michigan on a hunting expedition, taking with him his father's setter, but 18 months old. He drove into the swamps, where he became separated from the dog. He drove back to town and waited till night for the animal to put in an appearance. He then telegraphed to his father in this city, acquainting him of the loss. Sunday afternoon the animal arrived at the home of Frank Lang, here, where he was raised. The dog was very muddy and almost exhausted. It is estimated that the dog traveled a distance of several hundred miles.

Why She Was Worried.

Hortense—Sadie, I don't know whether to be mad or glad. I wonder if it was a compliment or an insult.

Sadie—For mercy's sake, what are you talking about?

Hortense—Oh, I haven't told you, have I? Well, I got on a car, and every seat was taken. A gentleman offered me his seat.

Sadie—And you took it, of course.

Hortense—Yes, but that isn't the thing. I wonder if he gave me his seat because he thought I was an old woman.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

In the Big Railway Deal.
The largest railway deal ever made or even attempted has been consummated under the title of the Northern Securities company. In the combination are the vast properties of the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Chicago and North-western, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and the Burlington, making a total of over 47,000 miles. E. H. Harriman, who was a prominent figure in the Northern Pacific war of last May, was one of the principal factors in bringing about this amalgamation.

Among others interested in this great railway transactions were J. P. Morgan, J. J. Hill, James M. Stillman, W. K. Vanderbilt and John D. Rockefeller.

Russell Sage says this latest move of the railway kings is a menace to the country, because it means the destruction of competition in railway transportation.

The Oldest Living General.

After the Duke of Luxembourg, the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, a brother-in-law of the Duke of Cambridge—who recently celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of his enrollment in the Prussian army, is now the oldest living general. He is, moreover, the third oldest sovereign in Europe, the Duke of Luxembourg being the oldest and King Christian the second oldest. He was eighty-two on the 17th of October and has for many years been totally blind. He is a great favorite of King Edward and spent some time at Homburg with him last month.

Oldest Man.

James Farrell of Barbourville, Va., recently celebrated the one hundred and fifth anniversary of his birth. He is now probably the oldest man in the United States. Mr. Farrell served in the war of 1812 and later was in Mexico, under Jefferson Davis. When the war between the states broke out, he enlisted, although no longer a young man, and saw four years of service. He was probably the oldest veteran to offer his services to the government when the Spanish war broke out.

A Defamed American.

Considerable interest is taken both in England and the United States over the trouble that has arisen between an American girl and an English artist. Miss Vanderbilt Wackerman, a beautiful New York woman, has resided abroad several years in company with her mother. The young lady has been painted by several famous European artists, and not long ago Professor Herkomer, the well known London artist, solicited "the honor of painting her exquisitely beautiful face and figure." Before the picture was completed Miss Wackerman's mother had to pay a visit to this country, and the young lady went upon invitation to stay with the Herkomers. As soon as the picture was completed Professor Herkomer turned his beautiful model from his door under circumstances and with words that constituted a serious reflection upon the young lady's character. No specific charges were made, and those who know Miss Wackerman became very indignant at what they call the defamation of her character. Worry over the cruel insinuations made against her by the artist has unbalanced the mind of Miss Wackerman, and she has been committed to a London hospital for the insane.

What steps will be taken by the parents and friends of the injured young lady to bring Professor Herkomer to account for his unjust and uncalled for attack remains to be seen.

THE COURTS.

APPEAL TAKEN IN THE BUCKEYE ROAD CASE.

Clark Trial Continued—Judge Wickham ill at Delaware and Depositions Postponed—Notes.

In Common Pleas court Tuesday the following business was transacted: State of Ohio vs. Thos. Costello, indicted for uttering forged check; trial passed from today to Dec. 3, on account of absence of material witness on behalf of defense. Phillips; Miller.
B. & O. and P. C. C. & St. L. Co. vs. Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction company, appeal given on behalf of plaintiffs. Kibler & Kibler; Fitzgibbon.
T. O. Donovan vs. C. B. L. & N. T. company; a preliminary injunction was heretofore granted, restraining defendant from lowering its track at bridge at plaintiff's farm on the Newark and Hebron road. It is charged that the defendant violated the preliminary order of injunction. Set for hearing a week from next Friday. Davies; Fitzgibbon.
State of Ohio vs. Wm. H. Clark, indicted for sending a telegram with intent to defraud. Continued. Phillips; James.

JUDGE WICKHAM ILL.

Judge Wickham was taken ill with vertigo at the court house in Delaware, which fact occasioned alarming rumors on the street as to his condition. His ailment is not considered at all serious by his physician, and it is thought he will be all right again in a day or two. Judge Wickham was unable to come to Newark today as he had intended.

Taking Depositions Postponed.

Mr. W. H. Thompson, who as notary public had set Tuesday morning as the time for taking depositions here in the contest of Emmett M. Wickham vs. George Coyner, received word of Monday that owing to his indisposition Judge Wickham will be unable to be present. The depositions will be taken later, probably not before next week.—Mt. Vernon Republican-News.

A DIVORCE SUIT.

Clara Grandstaff, by her attorney Sylvester Leamon, has filed her petition in the Probate court asking that she be granted a decree of divorce from her husband, John W. Grandstaff. The plaintiff says that she was married to the defendant on January 15, 1875, and that two children were the result of said union, Edith E., aged 25 years, and Edward, aged 23 years. For cause of action plaintiff alleges gross neglect of duty and willful absence for more than three years. She also charges defendant with extreme cruelty.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

HEALTH BOARD

CAUSES THE ARREST OF DR. D. H. MILLER

For Not Reporting Case in His Family Said to be Smallpox—House is Quarantined.

An affidavit was prepared by City Solicitor Smythe this morning, signed by Dr. Henry Day as Health Officer of the city, and filed before Mayor Atherton this afternoon.

The charge is that he, as a physician failed to report to the city health authorities a contagious disease, which charge, if he is guilty, will subject him to a fine of $50, and a second charging him with interfering with the health board, and its officers, in their efforts to stay an epidemic, or prevent the spread of a contagious disease may be filed.

On the second charge he is liable to a fine of $100.

The affidavit is filed in accordance with a resolution passed by the Board of Health at a joint meeting with the Board of Trade, making it the duty of the Health officer to prosecute cases of this kind.

Dr. Probst, secretary of the State Board of Health will be here tomorrow.

The house of Dr. Miller, corner Locust and Fourth streets, was quarantined this morning, the patient being his wife.

THIS AND THAT.

It was a Chicago court that rendered a decision that a boy should not be spanked by his parents, after he has reached the age of ten. The judge is right; a whip brings much better results after the period of infancy is over.

The Kohinoor—This world famous ancient gem, one of the largest and finest ever mined, is now the property of Great Britain, and is one of the crown jewels. At the coronation of King Edward next June, the famous diamond will flash from the coronet of Queen Alexandra. There are three larger diamonds in the world, but none of finer quality than the Kohinoor. Its value, were it for sale would be about $1,100,000.

From a humble country home at Orwell this state General Adna R. Chaffee climbed out in the world and up the ladder to his present high position—that of commander of the United States army in the Philippine islands—and he is the first private in the regular army to be elevated to such an exalted office. Through his tact and bravery during the charge of El Caney and then the campaign in Cuba, where he was also commander of the United States forces, his name became a pleasant topic of American conversation, and his friends believe that still greater things are yet to be accomplished for the republic at his hands.

Little did his young companions think as they played with him about snow forts in the fields of Orwell that Adna was some day to command great armies on real battlefields. Memories of playmate days, however, go to show that Chaffee's love for things military was very pronounced at the time he was attending the little district school and the old-fashioned Methodist Sunday school of his native locality. In a retrospect of his career his early command of the snowball forces loom up forcibly. He is a born leader of men.

Another smallest voter has been discovered in Crawford county. This time his name is R. B. Chisholm and for 66 years he has been voting. He is 87 years old and just 27 inches high. He is believed to be the smallest voter in the state.

All is not gold that glitters and that is what gives brass a chance. A man never gets too old to learn until he gets too old to marry.

GIRL

FALTERED AFTER SECURING THE RAZOR

BUT SHE NEARLY CUT A MAN'S HEAD OFF.

MOTHER WAS BADLY BEATEN.

But When Richardson Attacked Girl He Made a Mistake—Sympathy With the Girl.

Gallipolis, O., Nov. 26.—Myrtle Mayes a pretty fifteen-year old girl, almost severed John Richardson's neck yesterday. Richardson has been on a periodical spree and went to the home of Mrs. Mayes and attacked her. She was struck in the face and shamefully treated by Richardson, who is a big brawny stonecutter. Myrtle ran for the police and could not get an officer. Returning home she said Richardson struck her mother a blow in the face. He turned on the girl and threatened to kill her.

She ran to her brother's room, and returning to the scene of the onslaught lacked nerve to use the weapon. With an oath Richardson sprang for the girl when she seized the razor and slashed him twice, ripping his neck open from his chin to the spinal column, severing the big muscles and two arteries.

The sight of the blood frightened the girl and she ran bareheaded to the police station and gave herself up. Richardson, weak from the loss of blood, sank on the floor. Doctors were soon on the scene and caught the severed arteries.

While Richardson's wounds were being dressed he caught the blood coming from his wounds and swallowed it, while his head was hanging on one side with a gash large enough to admit a hand. Over 20 stitches were necessary to close the wound, and the doctors hope to save Richardson's life if they can keep his head in one position to keep the arteries together.

Miss Mayes has been released on a $500 bond. She says Richardson, who was a boarder at her home, caused her father and mother to separate and had broken up their little home. She claims he tried to betray her, and that her forbearance was exhausted and she used the razor in defense of her mother and her own life. Public sympathy is with the girl.

TELEPHONES

ENABLED MANY TO HEAR MISS SHAY SING.

When the Seats Were All Sold at the Opera House at Wheeling, West Virginia.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 26.—Not only was every seat in the opera house sold last night to hear Rose Cecilia Shay in "Carmen," but nearly 100 people heard her sweet and powerful voice over the phone in their own homes. At an early hour it was seen that here would be an unprecedented crowd to hear this young and brilliant star, and the telephones were kept busy in the morning asking if there was no way to hear Miss Shay. When informed there were no seats, and that practically every seat was sold for the matinee and evening performance Tuesday much disappointment was shown. This soon reached the ears of the telephone exchange, and after consulting Colonel W. A. Thompson, manager, and Mr. Feinler, the local manager of the opera house, it was arranged to place wires and receivers in the house and connect with as many houses as had phones. This proposition was communicated to many leading families, and within a short time parties were made up, each agreeing to pay $5 for the service. This caused considerable excitement, and although hundreds of people were turned away from the opera house, yet nearly 100 heard the entire opera by telephone. Miss Shay's splendid voice thrilling all who heard it, and all pronounced the telephone service a great success. "Trovatore" and "Pagliacci" and "Cavalleria Rusticana" are the bills tonight. The success of Miss Shay is unparalleled in the history of any American grand opera artist.

HOSPITAL

Course of Entertainments for the Season—How Many Tickets Do You Want?

The Hospital ladies have secured an array of talent for the entertainment of the Newark people that simply astound. In fact no city in the state brings so many big things at once, and the ladies hope to wipe out the debt of the hospital. Just look at the list of great artists that will be heard for $1.

Hildegard Hoffman, New York City's great soprano. She alone is a big attraction for any city in the United States.

Kathryn McGucken, Philadelphia's greatest contralto and soloist in the cathedral.

E. Elsworth Giles, said by many to be the finest tenor in the east, shared honors with Blavet at the Maine festivals and outgave his reputation.

Reahard, the piano soloist, of Pittsburgh, will accompany these four great artists.

Ernest Gamble, America's popular basso.

Frederick Morley, the Australian pianist, first season in America, arriving October 1st, after spending three years with the great Leschetzki.

Grace Jenkins, the violinist, now two years with the Ernest Gamble company, three years a pupil in Berlin.

The Persian Garden company, with Miss Rachel Freese soprano—an Ohio singer who has come to the front faster than any soprano in this country for years past.

Miss Winifred Reahard, contralto; Sam T. Beddoe, tenor; Daniel T. Moore, basso, and Julia T. Parks, pianist.

The hospital association agree to furnish all the above named artists on three different periods of time, commencing after the Holidays, for the almost nameless price of $1.

And to make a big financial success for the hospital the board of managers want 1,000 tickets subscribed before next Saturday night. Do not wait to be solicited. Send a postal card by first mail with the number of tickets desired, to any member of the board.

THE CHICAGO & FLORIDA SPECIAL.

The Cincinnati & Florida Limited.
Winter Service to Florida and New Orleans.
QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.
Through service to Florida and New Orleans via the Queen and Crescent Route, with connecting lines, will be inaugurated on a sumptuous scale this season. From Cincinnati three trains will be run to St. Augustine without change, with through sleepers from Chicago, Toledo, Louisville and Cincinnati to St. Augustine without change.

The Cincinnati and Florida Limited which has heretofore run only to Jacksonville will also run through to St. Augustine without change, with through sleepers from Chicago and Cincinnati. Also through sleeper from St. Louis and Louisville to Charleston, S. C. via Herriman Junction and Southern Railway.

Sleepers in connection with the Chicago and Florida Special leave Chicago 12 p. m. daily except Sunday via Pennsylvania Lines and 100 p. m. via Big Four Route. Sleeper in connection with the Cincinnati and Florida Limited leaves Chicago daily Sunday included at 9:00 p. m. via Monon Route and C. H. & D. R.

Double daily train service Cincinnati to New Orleans, and through sleepers Cincinnati to Asheville will continue as heretofore. The superb net work of Pullman service the unsurpassed schedules and equipment, the evident intention of all the lines interested to give the traveler to New Orleans, Florida and the West, indeed the best products of American railway practice promise for the traveler comforts en route that have never been equaled.

Winter tourist tickets at reduced rates are now on sale. Ask ticket agents for particulars or address H. J. Vandemark, E. P. A. at Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich., W. W. Dunaway, Train Pass Agent Cleveland, Ohio, or W. C. H. at C. & O. Rooms, Cincinnati, O.

Wild Bill Won.
Louisville, Nov. 26—"Wild Bill" Hanrahan of New York got the decision over Jimmy Handler of Newark, N. J., in the eighteenth round of a scheduled 25-round contest at catch weights. Marquis of Queensberry rules, before the Southern Athletic club. The fight was a lively one from the start, but one-sided toward the close. Handler's seconds threw up the sponge in the eighteenth.

Cubans at Washington.
Washington, Nov. 26—A delegation of Cubans called upon the president Monday and presented a petition adopted by the industrial organizations of the island, urging upon his attention the necessity of reducing the American tariff on Cuban products, particularly sugar and tobacco. The secretary of war and other officials also were called upon.

Timely Rescue at a Fire.
St. Louis, Nov. 26—Lutynes Brothers' wholesale and retail grocery was burned, the loss being $75,000. Four young women employees were rescued from the fourth story by firemen, who carried them out in an insensible condition. Mike Doran, fireman of one of the fire companies, was overcome by smoke and nearly suffocated.

AMERICAN

Lieutenant Distinguished Himself in an Attack Upon Filipino Force 'White Scouting.'

Manila, Nov. 26—While scouting with a few men of the Fourth regiment, Second Lieutenant Louis J. Van Schaick met about 150 insurgents, who had attacked and sacked the hamlet of Siaraca, near Cavite. Upon seeing the Filipinos Van Schaick ordered his men to charge them. The command was obeyed, and Van Schaick, being mounted, reached the insurgents 60 yards in advance of his men. He killed three of them with his revolver. An insurgent fired his rifle point blank at Van Schaick at four paces, but missed. Lieutenant Van Schaick was then knocked from his horse. He jumped to his feet and engaged in a hand-to-hand conflict with the enemy, using the butt of his revolver. He sustained two severe wounds, one of which nearly severed his wrist. At this point the lieutenant's men arrived, rescued him and put the insurgents to flight. Van Schaick is in the military hospital at Manila and is doing well.

Lipton to Try Again.
London, Nov. 26—"Should no one else challenge I am willing to make another attempt to lift the Americas cup." This announcement was given out by Sir Thomas Lipton at the banquet given at the Hotel Cecil in his honor, and which was attended by more than 400 guests. "It would never do," added Sir Thomas, "to give up when only a pulse-beat came between us and victory." The reception to the challenger for the Americas cup was marked with the greatest enthusiasm, and all classes were represented at the banquet.

After a Negro.
Macon, Ga., Nov. 26—A warrant was sworn out for Henry Stevens colored, chairman of the T. C. County Republican committee, charging him with attempting the murder of a young colored woman named Curtis, who, it is said, he shot in a deserted house Friday night. The woman escaped through a hole in the floor and lay in the swamp all night. Officers are in search of Stevens but he has not been found.

Icebergs Sighted.
St. Johns, Nov. 26—Four large icebergs are visible from this port. They are drifting south in the track of Atlantic shipping. Icebergs have never before been known to pass here so late in the season. Their presence is consequently all the more dangerous to ocean shipmasters, who do not now expect to find icebergs on the Grand Banks.

Mother Was Away.
Muncie, Ind., Nov. 26—The 2-year-old daughter of George Branson was burned to death, the child's clothing catching fire from a stove. A baby brother, who went to the rescue, had his hands severely burned. The mother was away from home at the time.

Dynamite Exploded.
Camden, Nov. 26—Two men named Griffith and Robinson were killed by an explosion of dynamite in a well five miles north of here. They were boring out a hole loaded with dynamite which had failed to go off.

An automobile is being built in New York that will make 70 miles an hour on a level road. The next and most difficult task will be to find a level road 70 miles in length.

ASTOUNDING DISCOVERY.
From Coopersville, Mich., comes word of a wonderful discovery of a pleasant tasting liquid that when used before retiring by any one troubled with a bad cough always ensures a good night's rest. "It will soon cure the cough too," writes Mrs. S. Himelburger, "for three generations of our family have used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and never found its equal for Coughs and Colds." It's an unrivaled life-saver when used for desperate lung diseases. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00 at Hall's drug store.

"Who is that man who keeps saying it is always the unexpected that happens?"
"I am not sure. Probably an attaché of the Weather Bureau."—Washington Star.

Bing—"Yes that's Spriggins. Half a dozen doctors have given him up at various times during his life."
Wing—"What was the trouble with him?"
Bing—"He wouldn't pay his bills."

RICH GIFT

OF MRS. MARGUERITE MAGIN-NESS SPRINGER OF CHICAGO

Former Resident of Newark to Art Cause—May Increase Gift—Mrs. Springer Interviewed.

Mrs. Marguerite Warren Springer, formerly of Newark, Ohio, and organizer of the National League of Industrial Art and Illinois state regent of the Daughters of the Revolution, who announced at the annual banquet of the University guild Saturday night her intention to give a lot at West Van Buren and Green streets and $1,000 in cash toward the erection of a building where the ideas of the Industrial Art league could be carried out, yesterday confirmed the gift and said she would give much more if necessary, says the Chicago Chronicle. Mrs. Springer is a believer in the doctrine of William Morris, Tolstoi and Ruskin. "Life without industry is guilt, labor without art is brutality," are the words of Ruskin which she adopts as her rule of right living.

She does not think fine art is art at all. She says that the fight on billboards is not a fight for art and that the creation of small parks for the benefit of the landlord, who will receive higher rents, and not for the poor, who will be driven from the neighborhood of the park.

"We should live right, work consistently and act naturally," she says. "Most rich people are snobs and live in the most ridiculous way. What we want to do in Chicago is to build a place where everyone can have an opportunity to exercise his desire to work along the lines that appeal to him. For such a building I have given this property on the west side. We will have the building by next spring if nothing happens."

Mrs. Springer is the daughter of Mr. John Maginnis, the dry goods man, formerly of Newark, and until about 1890 Mrs. Springer, then Miss Maggie Maginnis, lived in this city.

Spreads Like Wildfire.
When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abrohom Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years." You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidney and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, rundown man or woman. Price 50 cents. At Hall's drug store.

One hundred turkeys for Thanksgiving. Give your order at once if you want a fine bird. Oysters, celery and cranberries will also be needed.

Nebraska's Official Vote.
Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 26.—The official count for Nebraska of the November election shows that Sedgewick, Republican, for supreme court, has a plurality over Hollenbeck, fusion, of 12,669, and a majority over all of 6,751. For regents of the university Ernst and Calkins, Republicans, have an average plurality of 15,711. The total vote in the state was 204,192.

A Hard Loser.
Guthrie, O. T., Nov. 26.—William Sharum, a cotton broker, was placed in jail at Stillwater, charged with the shooting of Harry Spears, Jack Jones and Eugene Nady at Ripley, O. T. Nady is fatally wounded. It is alleged Sharum lost in a poker game, and in attempting to shoot Charles Crater, the manager of the place, struck the three bystanders.

HOPEFUL VIEW
The hopeful view consumptives take of their own cases is strongly in their favor. Each year is showing a larger percentage of cures.

One of the best reasons for good hope is the record of Scott's Emulsion as a medicine for consumptives. So long as the system is strong enough to use medicine of any kind it can use Scott's Emulsion.

The reason for its helpfulness in this disease is because of its long tolerance by the patient; one does not tire of it as quickly as other medicines and that is where the great benefit comes.

BOER WAR

M. R. Scott Takes Issue With the Outlook in Insisting Upon Surrender of the Boers.

(Communicated.)

In last week's issue of "The Outlook" edited by Dr. Lyman Abbott, there was an editorial strongly condemning the British government for its method of carrying on the South African war and insisting on the unconditional surrender of the Boers, and at the same time condemning the Boers for making further resistance to the British arms!—Hence these few lines by way of comment and reply.

I fully recognize the Outlook's privilege of refusing its "sympathy or respect" to either of these parties; but when it states that "the Boers challenged the British to this war" and that "when the decision of battle is clearly against the one who issues the challenge, manliness demands that he submit," this esteemed paper simply evades—perhaps I should say ignores—the merits of this contest. I do not care to argue about words or terms, but The Outlook ought to realize that this South African war is not a gilded tournament between knights of chivalry and honor, but a desperate contest between a people fighting to the death for their independence and a great "empire" determined to remove the "last shroud" of that independence. Therefore it is for the Boers themselves to determine whether they prefer death or submission. They certainly are not bound to relieve the British nation of the expense and burden of their subjugation. Let England decide for herself how much treasure she will expend and how many of her children she will sacrifice in the war of conquest and extermination on which she has entered with the solemn treaty of 1884 before her eyes!

And even if it were entirely proper to call the ultimatum issued by the Boers a "challenge," I submit to the reason and intelligence of The Outlook that when it charges the Boers with issuing this challenge and fails to state their reasons for doing so, it gives a wholly erroneous impression concerning the vital facts of history. Humanity has already been "staggered" at the cost of this unrighteous war, and Heaven only knows when we shall see the end of it!

And even if it were entirely proper to call the "ultimatum" issued by the Boers a "challenge," I would submit to the reason and intelligence of The Outlook, that when it charges the Boers with issuing it and fails to state their reasons for doing so, it gives a wholly erroneous impression concerning the vital facts of history. Why does not this esteemed paper also state that in the treaty or "convention" of 1884, the boundaries of the "South African Republic" as a separate and distinct nation were definitely fixed, and that the only qualifications of its independence was England's right to veto any treaties it might make with other countries or any native African tribes? (In this connection let me "challenge" The Outlook to publish this treaty or the essential provisions of the same in its columns.) Why did not The Outlook also state that when the gold mines were discovered and English settlers began to enter the Transvaal the English government demanded the right to control the franchise laws—of which there was no mention in the treaty—and the other internal affairs of the country whose independence she had so solemnly recognized? Why did not this paper also state that the English government not only sought to dictate the terms on which English citizens—without renouncing allegiance to the Queen!—should be allowed to vote and hold office in the Transvaal, but demanded that the English "sovereignty" which had been expressly renounced in 1884, should be recognized by the Boers?—Why did it not state that all propositions looking to the settlement of the questions in dispute between the two governments were refused by the British Cabinet except on this condition? And finally why did it not state that in connection with these unrighteous demands, the English government proceeded to mass large bodies of troops and immense military stores in Cape Colony for the manifest purpose of overawing the Boers and compelling them to submit to every demand that was made upon them?

In view of all these facts, which which The Outlook ought to be familiar, if it is not, and which it ought to publish before it assumes to discuss the merits of the South African war—there can surely be no intelligent discussion of this war without a recognition of these facts—I can hardly see how so intelligent a paper can regard the Boer ultimatum as a mere "challenge," or assume that the Boers are responsible for the war merely because it was issued. Rather, ought not The Outlook to realize—is it not as clear as the light of day—that by the overt acts of the British government the Boers were placed in a position where they must either give up their independence or fight to maintain it? The Outlook is too intelligent to dispute this proposition, I think. And in this case, what does it matter which party issued the first challenge or formal declaration of war? In plain words The Outlook should consider the devilish craft and ingenuity which provoked the Boer ultimatum rather than the ultimatum itself.

Let me ask Dr. Abbot to suppose that the United States was engaged in some diplomatic dispute with England, in the midst of which she should proceed to mass a military force in Canada bearing the same numerical proportion to our population that the force she massed in Cape Colony bore to the population of the Transvaal, or even the same number of troops that she massed in Cape Colony, would we not justly consider this miliar, if it is not, and which it ought to publish before it assumes to discuss the merits of the South African war—there can surely be no intelligent discussion of this war without a recognition of these facts—I can hardly see how so intelligent a paper can regard the Boer ultimatum as a mere "challenge," or assume that the Boers are responsible for the war merely because it was issued. Rather, ought not The Outlook to realize—is it not as clear as the light of day—that by the overt acts of the British government the Boers were placed in a position where they must either give up their independence or fight to maintain it? AN ACT OF WAR?

And if our government should issue such an ultimatum as the Boers issued—which it would certainly do—would The Outlook pronounce it a mere "challenge" and hold the United States responsible if war should ensue?

It pains me above measure that The Outlook not only ignores the vital facts which I have mentioned, but utterly fails to give to its readers the terms of the treaty or convention of 1884, and so far as I can judge from its editorial columns its esteemed editors have never considered it worth while to read that treaty themselves. In pursuing this course does The Outlook show proper respect for the intelligence of its readers? Is it doing justice to its own traditions and high reputation? Above all, is it fulfilling its righteous duty?

M. R. SCOTT.
P. S. The fact that The Outlook has at last expressed itself so freely in condemnation of England's methods of warfare indicates that its eyes are slowly opening to the light—perhaps it will one day see and feel bold to declare that if England had properly respected the treaty of 1884—to which she had solemnly affixed her hand and seal—there would have been no war, and no occasion for the "challenge"—if such it must be called—which was issued by the Boers.

Street Duel.
Madisonville, Ky., Nov. 26.—During a quarrel over politics William Bradley, a brother of Representative-elect Bradley, was shot by J. W. Hancock and received two wounds. Lonnie Tucker, 7d, and Frank Merriweather, a colored boy, were hit by stray bullets but not seriously wounded. It is said that Hancock pulled his revolver first, but that Bradley got the drop on him. They then separated and Hancock went into an adjoining hardware store and shot Bradley as he passed. Bradley has a bad scalp wound and his fore finger is almost severed.

Dowie Elder Soaked.
Victoria, B. C., Nov. 26.—Eugene Brooks, elder of Dowie's Christian Catholic church in Zion, was found guilty and sentenced to three months without hard labor for aiding and abetting John Rogers, who was recently found guilty of manslaughter, for not providing his infant children with medical attendance when they were suffering from diphtheria, from which they died. Brooks will appeal.

Killed His Man and Escaped.
Warren, O., Nov. 26.—Alexander Juraute, 20, shot and killed Raphael Sambrino at Niles. Both men are Italians. The deed was committed with a rifle and was the result of a quarrel. Juraute is at large.

Fatal Fall.
Hamilton, O., Nov. 26.—August Westfield, a carpenter, was killed by a fall from the roof of a local machine shop. He dropped 20 feet onto a skylight and was terribly mutilated.

It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, all Ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacement of the Womb, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life.

It has cured more cases of Backache and Leucorrhoea than any other remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors from the Uterus in an early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors.

Irregular, Suppressed or Painful Menstruation, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Flooding, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility quickly yields to it.

Womb troubles, causing pain, weight, and backache, instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the laws that govern the female system, and is as harmless as water.

It quickly removes that Bearing-down Feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, Dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues," and backache. These are sure indications of Female Weakness, or some derangement of the Uterus, which this medicine always cures.

Kidney Complaints and Backache of either sex the Vegetable Compound always cures.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles.

Those women who refuse to accept anything else are rewarded a hundred thousand times, for they get what they want—a cure. Sold by Druggists everywhere. Refuse all substitutes.

POLICE COURT

MR. HAINES' HOUSE VISITED BY BURGLARS.

Henry Stalen Tells the Mayor a Story of Injury and Headache.—The Police State.

Henry Stalen was arrested for being drunk by Officer Jacobs last night. He said he had been on a farm working near Granville, although his home was in Cambridge. He told the mayor that he was still suffering from an injury received by being thrown from a horse and showed a bad wound on the back of the head. To allay the headache he drank some whisky which intoxicated him.

His story made an impression on the Mayor, and he gave him back $1.55 to pay his way to Cambridge after fining him $1 and costs. He had $1.20 when arrested.

Last Friday Mr. W. S. Haines of 126 North Third street moved his family to North Fourth street above Dold's restaurant, and being unable to move all at the time, locked the house, leaving quite a good deal of clothing, hats and other articles in the house. Monday when they went to move these articles they found that burglars had been through the house and had virtually taken everything left.

The matter was reported to the police.

About 2:30 o'clock Monday morning Mr. L. D. Baker of 79 North Fifth street, was aroused by his wife, who heard a noise at the front part of the house. Mr. Baker got up and went down stairs but could see nothing out of the ordinary. In the morning he saw in the upper sash a round hole cut in the pane, about large enough to admit a man's hand, it evidently being the burglar's intention to reach through and unfasten the lock on the window. They were undoubtedly frightened away.

Ohio Man's Break.

Louisville, Nov. 26.—Frank Howard, who sells novelties on the streets and is said to have come from Toledo, O., broke with his foot $750 worth of plateglass windows in three prominent stores on Market street. When arrested he could give no explanation of his conduct and seemed to be in a dazed condition.

BISHOP MOELLER

ORDERS HIGH MASS CELEBRATED THANKSGIVING DAY.

Circular Letter to Catholic Rectors in this Diocese Sent Out By Bishop.

In accordance with the custom of the Catholic hierarchy of the United States, the following circular letter relative to the observance of Thanksgiving day has been issued by Bishop Henry Moeller, of the Columbus diocese:

To the Rev. Clergy of the Diocese of Columbus:

Rev. and Dear Sir:—Thanksgiving day, established by an act of congress as a national holiday, and commended by the president of the United States and the governor of each state, is a fitting occasion for all the citizens of our beloved land, in the spirit of a common patriotism to unite in public recognition of the sovereignty of God and in praise and thanksgiving with which He has overruled our country and our government.

We therefore invite the faithful of this diocese to assist at the holy sacrifice on Thanksgiving day, and we earnestly recommend you in conformity with the pious custom which is growing in many dioceses to celebrate high mass on that day, and at such an hour as will suit the general convenience, and to give an appropriate instruction. At the end of the mass read Bishops Carroll's prayer for our country and our temporal and spiritual rulers, and close the service with the hymn, Holy God, We Praise Thy Name. I give permission also for the benediction of the blessed sacrament.

Sincerely yours in X to,

HENRY MOELLER,
Bishop of Columbus.

A REVELATION.

When One Goes for Months Without Getting a Good Night's Sleep.—Release is Sweet.

Take away sound refreshing sleep and you rob nature of its most necessary requirement—Feeding and building up time; that's why so many people find their "standard" of strength waning when they cannot sleep well—one symptom after another creeps in and serious ailments follow, that is what makes so many feel and look older than they are. The perfecting of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills is a revelation to this kind.

Mrs. J. Brennan of No. 70 East Church street, Newark, Ohio, says:

"One of the family was fearfully nervous, was weak and could not sleep—a nerve tonic was badly needed and we used a box of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills we got at C. T. Bricker's City Drug Store and they acted finely, steadied the nerves, gave restful, natural sleep and general strength. We prize the medicine highly."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package. 2459.

Wealth DOES NOT MEAN Happiness

By JOHN D.
ROCKEFELLER,
Jr.

WEALTH does not mean happiness. A man may have riches and not be happy; a man may be honest and not be happy; a man may live better than others, have the highest social position, and not be happy or even successful. HAPPINESS AND SUCCESS COME ONLY WITH RIGHTEOUS LIVING.

If you live a clean life, pay strict attention to the teachings of Jesus Christ, yours will be righteous living and you will be happy and successful.

I was riding in a hansom the other day when I was attracted by the smiling face and jovial disposition of the driver. I asked him if he was happy, and he said: "I am very happy, Mr. Rockefeller. It may not seem so because I am the driver of a cab, but it is nevertheless the truth. I would sooner be on the box than anywhere else. I own a little house in the country, where I live with my wife and two children. I came by the home through hard work and have been well rewarded."

This man told me that he didn't drink and that he attended church as often as he could and lived up to the teachings of Jesus Christ as well as he knew how. This man's life is righteous, and, as he said, wealth could not make him any happier.

Christ did not necessarily mean wealth when he said, "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt and where thieves break through and steal."

So few clearly understand the true meaning of these words. So few have looked deep enough into the thought that is so well expressed. They do not necessarily mean money; they may mean anything else. They may mean any other calling in life that men may devote too much attention to and forget spiritual blessings.

A MAN MAY POSSESS GREAT WEALTH ON EARTH AND AT THE SAME TIME BUILD UP TREASURES IN HEAVEN. WEALTH IS NOT NECESSARILY AN IMPEDIMENT TO A MAN'S ADMITTANCE TO THE BEYOND.

PROTEST

IS TO BE MADE IN UNITED STATES SENATE.

AGAINST CONFIRMATION OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

BY THE ANTI-TRUST LEAGUE

In Case Roosevelt Fails to Heed Complaint of Inaction Against Three Big Trusts.

Columbus, O., Nov. 26.—President Roosevelt has been requested to give a hearing to representatives of the American Anti-Trust League in order that it may protest against the action of Attorney General Knox in failing to take action upon the petition filed with him on September 9 last demanding proceedings against the Steel, Sugar and Linseed Oil trusts.

In the event that nothing is done the league will make a formal protest in the United States Senate against Mr. Knox's confirmation as cabinet officer on the ground of conspicuous unfitness for that high office, and will cite as proof his failure to comply with the law.

This is the information gleaned from one of the leading spirits in the Anti-Trust League, who resides in this city. The petition filed with the Attorney-General was really a criminal information against the trusts which were mentioned in it. It was the result of a long line of investigation in a number of states, and was supposed to be complete in every detail, leaving the Attorney General nothing further to seek. He promised last September to look into the petition and give the league an answer in a short time. Over two months have passed and not a word has come from him. Last week one of the leading officers of the league succeeded in obtaining a personal interview with Mr. Knox and asked him pointedly why some attention was not paid to the petition. He was told by the Attorney General that he (Knox) would defer action until after the President had sent his message to Congress, adding, "Perhaps after that there will be no need for my action." This was said in a very significant way, giving the impression that the message was to be unusually strong on the subject of the suppression of trusts. But the league was fooled once before by a President, and has acquired wisdom. President McKinley promised to do something against the trusts, and eluded the direct issue through the appointment of a special body, known as the Industrial Commission, which was to investigate and report to Congress the abuses growing out of the trust system. Beyond the taking of testimony it has done nothing, and the promise seems fair that it will never do anything.

It was therefore resolved to pay no more attention to Attorney General Knox, whose delay is considered inexcusable, but to appeal directly to the President. If no satisfaction is gained at the White House, the league will, it is stated, enter a formal protest with the Senate against Mr. Knox's confirmation and thus place the members of that august body on record without the formality of an anti-trust bill coming before them. The hearing of the protest by the President is expected to take place this week.

A TIRED MUSICIAN.

How Strauss Once Snubbed a Russian Court Dignitary.

When Johann Strauss took his orchestra to Russia, he had some unusual experiences not generally recounted to those who live outside an auto-critic government.

One day he received the emperor's commands to play before him at his summer resort and was told, on arriving there, that he would have to rehearse his programme three times before the performance. He begged to know the reason for that, but no explanation was given him. These were her majesty's orders, and he could only comply. Still, his astonishment grew when he saw during the three rehearsals an empty court carriage drawn by a pair of horses slowly going back and forth in front of his orchestra.

Throughout the final performance the mysterious act was explained. The emperor, having a sharp attack of gout, was obliged to recline in the carriage, her foot on a cushion, while the concert took place, and the object of rehearsal had been to accustom the horses to a full string band lest they should take fright and bolt with her.

At the end of the performance an exalted dignitary of the court bade Strauss follow him to a splendid grand piano, saying:

"Now be good enough to play me all the newest Vienna music."

Although he was pretty fatigued by his three rehearsals and state performance, Strauss thought it expedient to comply, but after he had played continuously for over an hour he stopped, saying, "I presume that will be sufficient."

"I am not at all tired," coolly rejoined his excellency.

"But I am," said Strauss and rose from the instrument.—Youth's Companion.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS.

SWITCHMEN'S STRIKE BEGAN AT PITTSBURG TODAY.

Over 600 Men Quit—Detectives on Duty to Preserve Order—Local and General.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 26.—The Switchmen's Union of this city declared the threatened strike at six o'clock this morning. Between 600 and 700 men quit work in the yards. Over 170 Pittsburgh detectives have been mobilized in the B. & O. yards and the Pennsylvania company has asked for police protection. The strike is for higher wages.

Second Grand Master Hughes says: "Our demand is for 27 cents an hour for the men in charge of yard crews in day time, and 29 cents for these men at night, 25 cents an hour for the helpers of these crews in day time and 27 cents at night. The present wage in most of the Pittsburgh yards is $2.28 a day of 12 hours in day time and $2.40 at night, for the switchmen and $3 a day and $3.12 night for the conductors. The wages named are for 12 hours, making the wage rate of switchmen 19 cents an hour in day time and 20 cents at night, and for yard conductors 25 cents an hour in day time and 26 cents an hour at night."

Reports from the railroad yards are conflicting. One report says that everything is at a standstill in the Pennsylvania yards. Another states that yard work is progressing with a limited number of men at work. Trains are still moving in the Baltimore and Ohio yards where it is said only a comparatively few switchmen are working.

The following railway yards will be tied up: Baltimore and Ohio, Monongahela connecting Pittsburg and Western Pittsburg Junction, Pittsburg Junction, Pittsburg and Lake Erie, and the connecting line from Pittsburg and Western with the Schoenberg mills of the American Steel and Wire company. Six switchmen in the employ of the Pittsburg and Lake Erie railroad were discharged yesterday. It is claimed by several railroad men of McKees Rocks that this was done because the men were under suspicion of inciting other switchmen to enter into a strike agreement. The men were employed in the pressed steel car company yards.

The effect on business in this city and tributary commercial territory with all the freight congestion will be something frightful. The men are confident of early victory because of the helpless condition of the roads.

The Pennsylvania is further handicapped by the rebuilding of the Union Station yards and traffic has been slow for two weeks.

The strike has involved the Pennsylvania railroad at Union Station and Lawrenceville yards. About 40 union switchmen struck. The company brought in 100 strike breakers from Altoona this morning and has many of them at work. As they are inexperienced considerable trouble is resulting but the railway officials order to keep the yard open. The strike is also in the Pittsburg and Western and Allegheny Valley yards.

Freight traffic and passenger service on the big lines has not yet been interrupted as the switchmen hoped. The effects of their strike can scarcely be noticed at the yards and freight depots of the company. All the big lines running into Pittsburg are prepared to fight the switchmen to a finish.

LOCAL RAILWAY NOTES.

Conductor Howard of the C. O. division, is working again after a short leave of absence.

Mr. Charles F. Sowersby, for many years in one of the Newark B. & O. offices and recently located at Baltimore, now has a good position with the Erie railroad at Binghampton, New York.

The new switch which was torn out between Third and Fourth streets Sunday by a Pan Handle engine running through it, is being repaired today.

Slain by Negroes.

Texarkana, Ark., Nov. 26.—News reached here that Edward Rochelle, a prominent Red river planter, had been killed by two negroes. Rochelle was formerly jailer and deputy sheriff of Bowie county and was a brother of Representative Will Rochelle. It is reported that the negroes entered Rochelle's store, brained him and then robbed the place. Excitement runs high and mob violence is feared if the negroes are caught.

Railway Station Robbed.

New York, Nov. 26.—The Erie railroad station at Hawthorne, N. J., was entered and silk goods to the value of $1,500, a quantity of railroad tickets and a sum of money were stolen. John H. McCaffrey was arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the robbery. The police claim that he had some of the railroad tickets in his possession when arrested.

General Wood Sails.

Havana, Nov. 26.—General and Mrs. Wood left here for New York on the Ward line steamer Monterey. General Wood expects to meet the Cuban reciprocity commissioners in Washington and to discuss the question of reciprocity with President Roosevelt.

All the lines, anticipating the trouble, have secured extra men and the places of the strikers have been promptly filled. In several of the yards there has been some delay due to the fact that the new men were not accustomed to their duties.

NORTHERN PACIFIC'S FUTURE.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 26.—Henry White Cunon, president of the Chase National Bank of New York, and one of the directors of the Great Northern Railway, in an interview states there will be absolutely no change in the management or operation of the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific; there will be no consolidation of officers at any points and the companies will maintain their individuality as though the Northern Securities Company did not exist.

ON THE SANTA FE.

Every trainman on the entire Santa Fe system will be given a clear record as a Christmas gift. The management has announced that a clear slate is to be given every employe on which to start a new record. All of the black demerit marks that have been placed against the names of employes for different reasons, infractions of rules or accidents, are to be wiped off and a fresh start made.

What is known as the Brown system of discipline has prevailed on this road for several years. Under it an employe instead of being suspended without pay for violations of rules is given a certain number of demerit marks. When 100 demerit marks stood against an employe he was discharged. Demerit marks could be erased only by a clear record for specified time or by some meritorious or heroic act. It was found recently that he system was not being observed uniformly over the entire road, one division using it one way and another putting a different construction upon it.

Executive officers of the road recently met and after considering the matter and attempting to devise a method of reconciling the conflicting constructions of the system by the different divisional officers concluded that the only way of adjusting the matter would be to wipe off all demerit marks against all employes and start again, making fixed rules for the enforcement of the discipline system all over the road.

FIGHT THE COMBINE

Will the Attorney General of the State of Minnesota.

HOLDS RAILWAY COMPETITION DEAR.

Coal Miners and Operators of the Two Virginias Confer With the United Mine Workers Officials—Pittsburg Switchmen Vote to Strike—Capital and Labor.

St. Paul, Nov. 26.—Attorney General Douglas, who has returned home, made the following statement regarding the effort to be made to prevent the alleged consolidation of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railway companies, through the medium of the Northern Securities company of New Jersey: "I shall earnestly co-operate with Governor Van Sant in fighting any consolidation which is in violation of law, and will do anything in my power to encourage further legislation of a practical nature, either state or national, which is called to preserve competition. The organization of this great New Jersey corporation for the purchase of a controlling interest in rival roads, two of which cross and re-cross Minnesota, is a clear violation of the spirit of the act of 1881, the validity of which was sustained by the supreme court of the United States."

Miners of the Two Virginias.

Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 26.—The convention of West Virginia and Virginia coal operators and miners has opened here. Many delegates from the various miners' unions have arrived. It will be an important meeting. The United Mine Workers' officials have conducted various campaigns in West Virginia to perfect an organization, but without avail. The operators in some of the other states have insisted that the West Virginia miners be organized. In the event that they fail, the Illinois, Pennsylvania and Ohio operators threaten to withdraw from the interstate agreement. This would leave the United Mine Workers' officials without any ground to stand upon. The coming election in the Federation of Labor and United Mine Workers will play a conspicuous part in this convention.

Another Raid Anticipated.

Vincennes, Ind., Nov. 26.—Obstruction on the part of one of the three operators of the Prospect Hill coal mine to accede to the union's demands for the state wage scale, it is claimed, is likely to precipitate another raid like that of last week from mine workers of surrounding unions. The local union held secret meetings and dispatched a committee to confer with the operators, but nothing was agreed upon. Tuesday night the 16 local unions here will organize a central labor union that proposes to fight the coal operators to a finish. For several days foreign coal has been purchased to run the pumps.

Demands of Pittsburg Switchmen.

Pittsburg, Nov. 26.—The switchmen on seven railroads of Pittsburg have decided to strike. At a meeting of the Brotherhood of Switchmen, which was attended by about 600 members, this action was decided upon. In anticipation of possible trouble, it is learned that the Pennsylvania and other railroads have made application to the city police for protection. The demand of the men is that the Chicago rate be paid here. This rate is 27 cents an hour for day conductors and 23 cents for night conductors of switch engines, helpers 25 cents day and 27 cents night.

Echoes of the Gale.

New York, Nov. 26.—Reports of the damage done by the storm of Saturday night and Sunday continue to come in. Details from points on the Jersey coast, the southern coast of Long Island and the upper shore of Long Island sound show that the destruction was widespread and the monetary loss much heavier than at first supposed. At least a dozen lives were lost. Long Branch reports show that hardly a building there escaped some damage. The wreck of the tug Haddon at Long Branch is complete. The railroads are gradually getting their tracks in working order, but at some places no trains have yet been run. Besides the loss resulting from stoppage of traffic it will take many thousands of dollars to repair the breaks. Temporary repairs are being made as fast as possible.

Sheriff Indicted.

Minneapolis, Nov. 26.—Public Examiner Hope, in a report filed with Governor Van Sant, alleges that Sheriff Mogaard of Hennepin county has withheld funds amounting to $11,885. An examination of his books was made some weeks ago, and as a result the sheriff has turned over about $9,500, and has been indicted on 11 charges, running from perjury to larceny. The trial of the sheriff will be held early next month, and in the meanwhile pressure will be brought upon the governor to have him removed.

Left His Children Alone.

Darlington, S. C., Nov. 26.—Limerick Flax, a negro man living at Lides Bridge, left his home, locking in his three children, the oldest being 11 and the youngest three years old. During the night the house caught fire and all three children were burned to death. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of criminal carelessness.

Nation Divorce Suit.

Medicine Lodge, Kan., Nov. 26.—The divorce suit brought by David Nation against his wife, Carrie Nation, the saloon smasher, was begun here. Mr. Nation claims his wife took away his fatherland, drew $900 from the bank and refused to live with him.

AMERICAN ARTIST HONORED BY FRENCH PRESIDENT.

Mrs. Dupont Coudert, better known as Amalia Kussner, the celebrated miniature painter, was signally honored during her recent visit to Paris with her husband, Captain Coudert. They were the guests of President and Mrs. Loubet at the opera, occupying chairs in the executive box.

APPLE PICKING TIME.

"Long in apple pickin' time there is somethin' 'bout the weather. That'll set your spurs dancin' till they're lighter than a feather. You can hear it in the music of the neighborin' rooster's call. You can see it in the squirrel carryin' nuts along the wall."

An' the rustle,
An' the bustle,
An' the hurryin' fa' o' crops,
An' the veggin',
An' the seedin',
An' the dyin' o' the hops;
There's a busy feelin' in the air that sets your soul a-rime
In the 'hearty, healthy workin' days o' apple pickin' time."

When the crib is full o' corn an' the oat bin runnin' over,
An' the chickens finish chirpin' in the strawstack an' the clover,
Then the echo on the mountain sends your voice a callin' back,
An' you hear the faroff rumblyin' o' the freight train on the track,
An' the lowin' in the moon,
Where you tumbled the cows to browse,
An' the lurrin',
An' the durnin',
An' the banekin' up the house,
An' you'll laugh at wind an' weather when the
If the mous are full o' fodder an' there's apples in the bin.

Every critter is asfir with the news o' changin' weather:
You can hear the wild goose honk as he calls his flock together,
An' the hoards are on the mountain, an' the woodchuck's in his lair,
An' the squirrel fills his cellar in the hollow hemlock there,

An' the singin',
An' the rumgin',
O' the aces on the hill,
Gittin' ready,
Workin' steady,
All the empty bins to fill,
An' when youth has crept behind you an' your life is past its prime
You will feel your boyhood comin' back in apple pickin' time."

School Principal Attacked.

Mena, Ark., Nov. 26.—News received here from Dequeen, Ark., says that Professor R. H. Kolb, principal of the high school at that place, had an altercation on the street with George T. Locke, a prominent citizen, over the punishment of Locke's son by Kolb. During the controversy Kolb shot Locke twice, one bullet passing through his hand and the other entering the right shoulder blade and penetrating the right lung. Locke's condition is considered very serious. Professor Kolb has surrendered to the authorities.

Pittsburg's New Recorder.

Pittsburg, Nov. 26.—J. O. Brown, the new city recorder, appointed by Governor Stone last Thursday to succeed A. M. Brown, deposed, has been sworn in. The members of the former recorder's cabinet have tendered their resignations. Recorder J. O. Brown at once announced the following appointments: Director of public safety, A. H. Leslie; director of public works, Dr. J. Guy McCandless; director of charities, George W. Wilson.

Cleveland Recovering.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 26.—Former President Cleveland is rapidly recovering from his severe cold. This is the report of Dr. Winthoff, his physician. Mrs. Cleveland also gave out a bulletin which stated that Mr. Cleveland is still gaining in strength and that he is resting comfortably.

Roller Boat a Success.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Nov. 26.—Knapp's roller boat demonstrated its ability to roll. In a blinding snowstorm, with a stiff north wind, it rolled from Prescott across the St. Lawrence river to Ogdensburg, but missed the channel to the upper harbor and rolled into the soft mud on a bar abreast the city, and settled hard, surrounded by snow and ice. The inventor and stockholders who were on board were taken off in small boats. The inventor claims success. The boat is 110 feet long and 22 feet in diameter. An engine is suspended in a car in the center. The motive power is applied in the form of a climbing engine. Mr. Knapp says he will now build an ocean roller boat 80 feet long and 200 feet in diameter, with a capacity of 4,000,000 bushels of wheat and a speed of 13 knots an hour.

German Tariff Bill.

Berlin, Nov. 26.—The reichstag began the discussion of the new tariff bill, which, with its preambles, etc., comprises several thick volumes. A special preamble to the customs tariff sets forth the necessity of making arrangements independently of the existing veterinary and police prohibitions and restrictions concerning the importation of cattle. The preamble explains this necessity because the tariff has to reckon with the possibility of the abolition of these prohibitions and restrictions. Therefore, the preamble asserts, in the interests of home production suitable duties must be provided on cattle and meat, even if the effect of these duties is not felt economically until later.

Catholic Indian Schools.

Washington, Nov. 26.—It was announced that the Catholic archbishops of America, at their annual meeting, adopted the following resolution: "That we heartily commend, and will practically encourage work for the raising of the amount annually needed for the support of the Catholic Indian schools, and will similarly encourage wider efforts aiming at bringing the benefits of Catholic training to the Catholic children in the government schools." The personnel of the Catholic Indian bureau is as follows: Cardinal James Gibbons, president; Rev. William H. Ketcham, director; Very Rev. E. R. Dyer, D. D. treasurer; Charles S. Lusk, secretary.

Trouble Averted.

Washington, Nov. 26.—The threatened trouble over the boundary line between Chile and the Argentine republic has been averted for the present at least. Signor Infante, the charge of the Chilean legation here, conveyed to this government an assurance that the two principals to the boundary questions have just succeeded in reaching an amicable and satisfactory understanding. This statement has given great satisfaction, for it is believed here that hostilities between Chile and Argentine would without doubt involve three-fourths of South America before they terminated.

UPRISING

Imminent in the Klondike and Canadian Troops Wanted—Americans at Its Head.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—Overland through Alaska to the sea, by water to Seattle and through the United States on their way to Ottawa, officials of Yukon territory are hurrying to plead at the Canadian capital for help to put down the rebellion threatened by members of the Order of the Midnight Sun. Three of these officials arrived at Chicago and others are on the way. That serious trouble is imminent in the far northwest is candidly admitted by three members of the Yukon department of public works. The men are D. McR. Minard, accountant; J. C. Taché, resident engineer, and P. E. Meyler, assistant engineer. A determined, united effort by a band of at least 1,500 men, who have been laying plans for nearly a year, is in the plot, as described by the officials, to establish an independent government. Seventy-tenths of the men are Americans, and they have grievances and the ability to get them forth in convincing style. Governor General Minto of Canada is to be asked to send troops to the scene, and at least to double the mounted police.

I was up in a Massachusetts town a few weeks ago, and I had to make a certain train or lose a thousand dollar order. I looked at my watch and in a future way compared it with the town clock. It looked to me as if there was a big difference between the two, but I decided to go by the clock. I went into three or four places, loafed around and was killing time when an acquaintance came along and said:

"I thought you were going to make that 2:30 train?"

"Yes, I am," I replied.

"When?"

"This afternoon, of course."

"By what time?"

"By your town clock. I've got half an hour yet."

"Oh, you have!" he laughed. "Well, let me tell you that our clock hasn't been running for a week, and you have lost your train by an hour and a quarter."

WEDDING THIS WEEK

ROSS FERRELL'S SWEETHEART TO BE MARRIED.

Preparations for the wedding to a Cleveland Undertaker on Thanksgiving Day Being Made.

The following from the Columbus Dispatch pertaining to Miss Lillian Costlow, for love of whom Ross Ferrell murdered Express Messenger Lane, will be read with interest:

Preparations for the marriage of Miss Lillian Costlow of Columbus, to William Nunn, a prosperous undertaker of Cleveland, are in progress. The wedding is to be a very quiet affair and will take place in St. Stephen's church on Thanksgiving day.

Miss Costlow is now in Cleveland, and is the guest of friends. She will remain in that city until her marriage and will thereafter reside there. "She will not return to Columbus again," says Mr. Nunn, "unless she goes there on a visit."

"Our wedding will be a very quiet affair," said Mr. Nunn in Cleveland. "The only Columbus people who will be present will be the family of the bride, and a few of my friends will complete the wedding party. There will be nothing elaborate in the affair. Miss Costlow and myself have decided that this event shall attract as little attention as possible."

Mr. Nunn is very much averse to discussing the matter of his approaching marriage. He met his bride there a short time ago while she was on a visit to friends. The friendship ripened into love and the coming Thanksgiving was set as a suitable day for the wedding. Mr. Nunn comes from a well-to-do family. His brother John has just been elected treasurer of this county.

Mr. Costlow, father of Miss Lillian, was seen Saturday noon, but had nothing to say as to his daughter's plans, remarking that he thought there had been enough newspaper notoriety in connection with the family. He and Mrs. Costlow will go to Cleveland the first of the week to be present at their daughter's wedding. Mr. Costlow was inclined to think that the prospective groom was not fond of newspaper notoriety himself, as his tones of disapproval indicated when speaking of the interest the newspapers seemed to take in the affairs which concerned only his family, and which outsiders should leave alone.

LITTLE BABY

Destined to Play a Big Part in the Finances of the Country, if He Lives.

New York, Nov. 26.—The new Vanderbilt baby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, an announcement of whose birth appeared in yesterday's Advocate, is, if he lives, destined to play an important part in the financial affairs of the city.

Should he grow to manhood he will one day inherit the bulk of his father's fortune, providing Alfred G. Vanderbilt follows the precedent set by old Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt and, with the exception of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt, adhered to by each succeeding head of the house, that of leaving the lion's share to the eldest son. This practice not only keeps intact a considerable portion of the family wealth, but fixes the identity of the head of the Vanderbilt family.

Thus if the new baby lives he will one day be the head of the family and the greatest single power in finance in the country, with responsibilities greater than those which confronted old Commodore Vanderbilt, William H. Vanderbilt or the late Cornelius Vanderbilt, for the wealth of the family when it reaches a mature age will probably be double what it is today.

KNIGHTS OF ST. FRANCIS—The regular meeting of Division No. 151, Knights of St. Francis of this city, will be held at their hall this evening. There will be business of importance to transact and it is necessary that as many of the members as can possibly do so be present. The nomination of officers will also be made.

COMMITTEE

APPOINTED BY THE CITIZEN LEGION.

Legislature Will be Asked to Buy More Ground Adjoining the State Camp Ground.

The Citizen Legion decided Monday night to use its best efforts to secure for the State Camp Grounds one of the proposed regular army permanent camps, and also to urge the incoming legislature to purchase the necessary additional ground required for brigade and division encampments with suitable rifle ranges for both artillery and small arms and to otherwise suitably equip the grounds for any class of military use at all likely to be required of them.

The following committee was appointed to take these matters in charge: Col. M. M. Gillett, Rev. J. C. Schindler, Capt. F. G. Steele, Gil C. Daugherty, Rev. T. M. Higginbotham and E. S. Randolph.

The board having the regular army camps in charge is composed of Lieut. Gen. Miles, Major General Brooke, Otis, Young, MacArthur, Bates, Randall and Kobbe.

GATES DROPPED

JUST AS HORSE REACHED THE RAILROAD TRACK.

Henry Dean's Team Frightened at Union Street Crossing—Mr. Dean's Narrow Escape.

Henry Dean, who resides at the fair grounds, came near meeting with a serious accident on Monday evening. He had purchased a car load of tile from Smith & Sons, lumber dealers, and was engaged in hauling it to the fair grounds. On one of his trips just as he was about to cross the Union street crossing, the watchman let down the gates in order to let a train pass by. The gates just grazed the horses' heads and frightened them so badly that they whirled and started to run. The heavily loaded wagon was overturned, throwing the driver to the ground, scattering the tile in all directions and breaking the wagon. Fortunately Mr. Dean escaped serious injury.

The Miller Case.

The City Board of Health was not satisfied with the report as to whether or not Mrs. D. H. Miller had smallpox. As some opposition was encountered by Drs. Stephan and Day when they wanted to enter the house Monday evening the Health officers were about to take steps to enter by force if necessary.

This morning Mrs. Miller's husband admitted Dr. Stephan and he unhesitatingly said that Mrs. Miller had had the smallpox, but was now over the disease, having been sick between three and four weeks.

LUTHER LEAGUE.

Reorganization of Young People's Society of St. Paul's Lutheran Church of this City.

The Young People's Missionary Society of St. Paul's Lutheran church, at a special session Monday evening unanimously resolved to reorganize the society into a Young People's Luther League. Entering into the great spirit of the Church of the Reformation they thus organize that they may be in touch with the young people's movement not only in the Lutheran Church but in the Church at large. The Missionary Society which has done so much for St. Paul's thus enters a wider field of usefulness. The objects of the League are to stimulate Christian activity, to foster the spirit of loyalty to the church, to provide a systematic reading course in the history and doctrine of the church as well as the systematic study of the Word, and to encourage and direct the missionary work of the young. The motto of the League is "Of the Church, by the Church and for the Church," and the badge is Luther's coat of arms, a black cross in a naturally red heart in a white rose in a blue field surrounded by a ring of gold, signifying, that though by the crucifixion of ourselves we have suffered death it is death unto ourselves and not unto Christ, hence the heart is alive unto Christ, so that joy and peace and comfort shall blossom as a rose and heaven, symbolized by the blue field, shall be the fulfillment of our faith whose joys shall be eternal. A very beautiful League hymn concludes thus:

We proudly bear as banner
A cross within a heart,
To show that we have chosen Christ, the better part.
Then joy and peace and comfort
Shall blossom as the rose Until our earthly blessings
The worth of heaven disclose.
All hail, our glorious Saviour,
Our lives for Thee make bold,
Beneath our Luther ensign,
Black, red, white blue and gold.
The membership in the United States now number more than 1,000,000 members. The official organ of the league is the Luther League Review and Topics for both the Senior and Junior Leagues follow the Gospels and Epistles for the church year.

The League of St. Paul's begins with a membership of thirty-two.

GLASS WORKS.

IRON ARRIVES TO REPAIR THE DAMAGE DONE

Last Spring.—The New Tank at Everett Factory Starts on Wednesday of this Week.

Three large car loads of structural iron arrived at the E. H. Everett company's glass house this morning. This iron is to be used in rebuilding the large tank which was badly damaged by lightning last spring during the big wind storm which blew down a portion of the walls in addition to the damage wrought by the lightning. It has also been announced that fires will be started in the amber tank Wednesday. This makes five tanks that are running in full force.

DOZEN WOUNDS

INFLECTED BY BURGLARS UPON A MERCHANT.

Victim of Robbers was Found Unconscious and a Posse is Now After the Assailants.

Athens, O., Nov. 26.—Bleeding from a dozen wounds and unconscious, John Lemon, a wealthy merchant of Frost, this county, was found last night in his store, where he had been held up by two robbers with drawn revolvers. As Lemon was preparing to close his store about 8 o'clock the men entered and, at the muzzles of revolvers, demanded that he open his safe. Lemon refused and the robbers clubbed him over the head with their revolvers, knocking him to the floor. They left without the money. Lemon soon arose, but before he could get assistance the robbers returned and again demanded that he open his safe. He again refused and was knocked insensible.

The robbers departed and Lemon was discovered a few minutes later and gave an incoherent account of the affair. Citizens are now in hot pursuit of the highwaymen. They are being chased toward Athens, and officers here are hurrying to intercept them. It is believed they will be captured.

AMUSEMENTS.

It goes without saying that one of the best and most interesting plays ever staged is the Pantomime production of "Old Mother Goose's" fairy tales and nursery rhymes, "Humpty Dumpty," and, if we can believe what the press of other cities says there has never been a better version of production of the play than the one given by the "Cornell Twentieth Century Humpty Dumpty Company," which is to be at the Auditorium tomorrow and Thursday nights with Thanksgiving matinee. To begin with Mr. Homer H. Cornell, whose home from childhood has been in Lansing, Mich., is an acknowledged millionaire, and never known to do anything by halves. In this, his greatest effort, he has expended over twelve thousand dollars. Every detail is said to be most complete, strictly up-to-date, and very beautiful. Everything entirely new, original, and put up regardless of cost. They have thirty-five people headed by the inimitable Pantomime clown, Mr. Eddie McDonald. They are also accompanied by the famous "Cornell Premier Band" (fourteen) and Orchestra (nine) whose sweet music will add materially to the completeness and beauty of the production. We are also assured that their scenery will all be used in their production here.

A big feature with the Cornell Twentieth Century Humpty Dumpty company will be the original "Saville Sisters" recently from Europe. They do all kinds of electric dances, etc., including the wonderful "Electrical Butterfly Dance" a la Loie Fuller and Adelaide Hermann. Their singing and dancing has been lauded and applauded by the crowned heads of Europe where they are established favorites.

DEAD

AS RESULT OF EXPLOSION NUMBER 29.

HOSPITALS FILLED WITH THE WOUNDED AND DYING.

THE BLACK PALL OF DEATH

Hangs Over the City of Detroit Where Yesterday's Explosion Occurred.
Further Details.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 27.—The black pall of death hangs over the city today, the hospitals are filled with the wounded and dying and Maney's morgue is gorged with the crushed and roasted remains of 24 dead who met destruction yesterday morning.

The records of the company show that 124 workmen reported for work at 7 a. m. The scene that followed the sudden and terrible explosion at 5:24 o'clock, until this morning's sun rose over the charred and sodden ruins have scarcely been paralleled in the history of the city. All through the night the gruesome work of exhumation went on. Shortly after midnight another body, the twenty-seventh, was found, close to it were picked up a Canadian quarter, date 1892;
a Pan-American souvenir medal, a hunting case watch, gold, American Waltham movement case No. 531,572, which will serve as means for identification.

At 6:30 today Ignatius Brock died at Emergency hospital, making the twenty-eighth victim of yesterday's fearful catastrophe.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 27.—(Bulletin.)
—Another body has just been taken from the Penberthy ruins. The list of dead to date is now 29.

All but two of the 29 are now identified. No bodies have been found in the ruins since 2 o'clock this afternoon. The prosecuting attorney has seized the boilers and everything is guarded by police pending an investigation. Low water in the boiler was undoubtedly the cause of the explosion.

Detroit, Nov. 27.—As the result of the explosion of one of the boilers in the Penberthy injector company's plant in this city, 27 men are dead, five of them unidentified, and 24 other men are lying in the various hospitals of the city suffering from terrible cuts and burns and other injuries. Following is a list of the dead, so far as known:
A. E. Hoffman, Joseph Coffee, A.
E. Miller, Eugene Bertram, Edward Burtch, Charles Marvin, Stephen
Crisp, Patrick Malloy, Louis Menning, R. Mulkee, George Schenör, Charles
Lydy, Jacob Koebel, William Mann, Christopher Waldman, Robert Craer,
J. Schaible, R. Ryan, Douglas Dickinson, Joseph Koseck, Peter Dolt and 5 unidentified bodies. Twenty-five men and boys have not as yet been located either at their homes or at the hospitals. The unidentified bodies account for 5 of these, and the officers of the company say they feel positive that the major portion of the remaining 15 are at their homes. A great force of men is searching the ruins and the work will not be stopped until every foot of the debris has been examined.

The Penberthy injector company's plant occupied half a square at the corner of Abbott street and Brooklyn avenue. It was composed of two brick buildings, separated by a 16-foot alley.
The rear building, in which the boiler was located, and which was completely destroyed, was three stories in height, 54 feet in depth and 100 feet wide. The boiler room was located at the northwest corner of the building, on the first floor. It was in this building that most of the manufacturing was done. It was a horizontal boiler which let go and caused the awful loss of life. The awful crash came without the slightest warning. Those in the building said it seemed like the concussion of an immense cannon.
The floors and roof of the rear building bulged upward and then crashed down with their heavy loads of machinery and foundry apparatus. Walls, roofs and all dropped into a shapeless mass of debris. Windows in houses for a block around were jarred by the concussion. A dense cloud of dust arose, and as it settled, and was succeeded by denser clouds of smoke and steam, agonized cries began to come from the heap of tangled wood, metal and bricks. Those who were only partly buried frantically dug themselves out, and then as energetically turned to digging for their comrades who were buried deeper. Flames broke out almost immediately and the hor-

MAST'S WILL

Again in Controversy—The Heirs Objecting to Wesleyan's Library Bequest.

Springfield, O., Nov. 27.—A motion relative to the disposition of the Mast millions was made in Court yesterday afternoon, when the trustees of the Ohio Wesleyan University, at Delaware, moved to strike from the petition of the heirs in the will case the clause objecting to the payment of the endowment for the university library.
The motion for the construction of the will is to be argued Friday. It will be recalled by those familiar with the will of Mr. Mast that he left something like $100,000 in stocks for the library at Delaware. The heirs seek to restrain payment of this sum, arguing that the college has an ample library and that the sum mentioned is not needed for the purpose.

Married 61 Years.

Latrobe, Pa., Nov. 27.—Mr. and Mrs.
George Fritz of Youngstown, Pa., will celebrate their sixty-first wedding anniversary Thanksgiving. There are nine children all living, 24 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren.
Mr. and Mrs. Fritz have lived on the same farm during their entire married life.

RESCUE

Of a Little Boy Locked in a Church Basement at Springfield, O., Was Timely.

Springfield, O., Nov. 27.—The loss of an umbrella and the subsequent effort to find it may have saved from death little Waldo Drake, the four-year-old son of Ralph Drake of Madison avenue, near Limestone street.
On last Sunday Mrs. S. B. McIlhenry, of Northern avenue, lost her umbrella while attending services at the Fourth Lutheran church. In the afternoon she sent her son Wilbur, accompanied by the son of Pastor Stock, to the church to recover the missing article. The boys, on reaching the edifice, were alarmed by crying and kicks on the basement door.
They entered and found the little Drake boy, who had been locked in the building for several hours. But for the effort to recover the umbrella it might have been days before the boy was found.

TRIPLE

Wedding This Morning in Kentucky in Which All of the Parties are Related.

Cold Spring, Ky., Nov. 27.—A unique wedding was solemnized this morning at the Roman Catholic church, Alexandria, Ky., in which all the participants are related. The contracting parties are Edward Balthaler, of Alexandria, and Katie Steffin, of Covington; Henry Overbeck, of Alexandria, and Anna Steffin of Covington; Joseph Overbeck of Alexandria, and Katie Woeste, of Covington. Miss Woeste is a first cousin to the Steffin sisters, and the Overbecks are brothers. Bal-thaler is a relative of the Overbeck brothers.

DAVID NATION GETS DIVORCE FROM CARRIE.

Medicine Lodge, Kas., Nov. 27.—
David Nation was last night granted a divorce from his wife, Carrie Nation.
Mrs. Nation gets the home property, consisting of a fine brick building and valuable lot. David gets an old house and lot worth about $100. Both will retain such personal property as they now hold. David is not dissatisfied with the verdict. Mrs. Nation was not present when the verdict was rendered.

FAVORS EXCLUSION.

Boston, Nov. 27.—The Post today printed the following telegram from United States Senator Lodge at Washington.

"To the Editor of the Boston Post: I favor the Chinese exclusion act and intend to introduce a bill for its extension.

"H. C. LODGE."

ARMS

BY THOUSANDS IN BOSTON ARE "SCRATCHED."

TWENTY NEW CASES ADDED TO SCORES REPORTED.

EPIDEMIC IS NOW ON THE WANE.

In One Down Town Station Yesterday
1200 People Were Vaccinated—Boston's Big Score.

Boston, Nov. 27.—At the office of the Boston Board of Health today your representative was informed that smallpox was on the wane. This bulletin was given but in spite of the fact that 20 new cases were added to the scores which have already put the city under a cloud of fright. The health department however, continued to advise vaccination and up to the time of the closing of the vaccination stations last night, nearly ten thousand people had their arms scratched. In one down town station 1200 were vaccinated during the day.
Dr. Durgin, chairman of the Board of Health, said today that yesterday the department expected an even larger number of cases than those reported because of the weather. "Rain and a chill wind made the proper condition for developing the disease," said the doctor. Other officials of the board say that inasmuch as the number was about the average reported daily for some time past the physicians must be gaining control of threatened epidemic.

MISS JENNIE

Will Continue to be Postmistress of Hobart, Ind., at Least for the Present.

Valparaiso, Ind., Nov. 27.—The Hobart postoffice war is ended, at least for the time being, and Postmistress Jennie Spray has won over the horde of Republican leaders who came so near displacing her for a male party worker. Congressman Crumpacker has announced that he had recalled his recommendation of Charles Berger, and that Miss Spray would not be removed. The people of Hobart are jubilant over the victory. The news was greeted with the ringing of church bells, while last night bonfires burned on the streets, a band paraded, and the town was fairly wild with excitement.

WAYWARD

Sister and Taunts of Acquaintances Causes Kellar to Attempt His Own Life.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 27.—Martin Kellar, of Hayward street, attempted suicide. A patrolman found him in a saloon and arrested him for intoxication, just as Kellar was about to drink from a vial of carbolic acid. At the station several bottles of carbolic acid were found in Kellar's pockets.
"Yes, I intended to commit suicide," said Kellar in the police court. "I went to the Philippines and fought for my country. A soldier friend came home with me, and I introduced him to my sister. They were married.
Two weeks later he left her. He had found out he said, that her life had not been upright. When they separated my sister went back to the life she had given up for my sake when I came home. When some young men I knew taunted me about my sister I made up my mind to kill myself."

Kellar was discharged.

Fund Taxable.

Cincinnati, Nov. 27.—The reserve fund of the Mutual insurance companies is taxable. Hundreds of thousands of dollars that have here-to-fore escaped taxation must now pay. This is the effect of a decision handed down by Judge Smith, the first of its kind in Ohio. The case in question was brought by Tilden R. French as county treasurer against the German Mutual Life Insurance company to test this point.

APPROACH

Of a Storm Can Be Told by a Young Inventor of Shreve, O.—Other Machines.

Shreve, O., Nov. 27.—Willard Gardner, a boy of 17 years old, has a little workshop in which he has manufactured a successful wireless telegraphic apparatus from his own invention.
(His machine transmits messages a distance of one mile without difficulty and without wires. He has also invented a machine which tells of the approach of a storm by ringing a bel when the storm is yet 50 miles away.
The boy is now at work on a wireless telephone, which he is satisfied will be successful. As far as he has gone this mechanical genius says his tests have been satisfactory. He believes it is possible and hopes to be the inventor of a system by which he can telephone around the world without the use of wires.

FIGHTING

BETWEEN FORCES NEAR SAN PABLO

DELAYED TRAINS, REQUIRING PRUDENCE AND PATIENCE.

MORE FIGHTING IS EXPECTED.

Perry Reports to Navy Department—Government Troops Generally Victorious—Trains Delayed.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Captain Perry of the Iowa, in a cablegram to the navy department today confirms the report that General Pinzon has returned to Colon. It is understood that during her absence in Colon, Pinzon landed on the coast 500 of the soldiers which she held on board. These will co-operate with General Alban's troops that are marching overland from Panama to attempt the recapture of Colon from the Liberals.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The following cablegram was received this morning at the Navy department from Commander Perry of the Iowa:
"Panama, Nov. 27.—Secretary of the Navy, Washington: Stubborn fighting between contending forces near San Pablo delayed trains, requiring prudence and patience.

"There will probably be fighting today near Gatun. I have secured assurances that firing shall cease while trains are passing. Forty wounded Colombians brought in train last night. All cared for Dr. Kimbleberger.
(Signed) "PERRY."

Washington, Nov. 27.—The State department has received the following dispatch from Consul General Cudger at Panama:

"Heavy fighting yesterday. Government troops generally victorious.
Trains somewhat delayed."

WAVES

Of Reform Sweep the Towns of Aug-laize County—Gamblers Are Leaving Muncie.

Wapakoneta, O., Nov. 27.—A wave of reform is sweeping over the towns of this county. The council of Waynes-field has just repealed the "wet" ordinance, and given the saloons 16 days' notice to quit. The citizens of New Hampshire by main force have driven the saloons out of town. The mayor of St. Mary's has ordered the saloons closed on Sunday, while the dram shops at New Bremen have been closed on Sunday night as a drum for several weeks. In Wapakoneta the ministers are circulating a petition to have the saloons closed on Sunday.
The petition will be presented to the Mayor in a short time.

PULLMAN VERY ILL.

Redwood City, Cal., Nov. 27.—George
M. Pullman of Chicago, is critically ill with pneumonia and his friends are alarmed. Young Pullman recently married Mrs. Brazell, a sister of Mrs. Sanger Pullman, in Nevada.

B. & O.

IS HARDLY ABLE TO MOVE FREIGHTS

BUT GETTING THROUGH TRAINS OUT OF PITTSBURG.

STATUS OF PITTSBURG STRIKE.

Up to Noon Men Had Failed to Make Gains—Strikers Are Confident of Success.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 27.—Up to noon today the switchmen had failed to make gains. The Allegheny Valley yards, which were tied up, got some of the old men back and new ones from Altoona. The Pennsylvania rail road yards are in working order.

More men went out in the Pittsburg and Lake Erie yards at Homestead, causing considerable of a blockade.
The B. & O. is hardly able to move local freights but is getting through trains out.

Pittsburg, Nov. 27.—The strike inaugurated here by the switchmen is making headway, the Lehigh Valley road being seriously affected. The company officials, while admitting that freight traffic has been practically suspended, say that within 24 hours they will have all the men they need and work will be resumed as usual.

Should the condition of the Allegheny valley be continued longer than two days more the mills and factories along the Allegheny river dependent on it for raw material will be compelled to close down. The city mills of the Carnegie company can stand the pressure for this length of time out if extended beyond that the management says operations will have to suspend.

A meeting of the union was held and the claim was made that the strike was a success as far as it has gone, and that within 24 hours the members of the union, about 700 would be out. The demands of the switchmen call for the enforcement of the standard scale of wages. It is claimed that the Monongahela connecting line signed the scale, but the officials of the other roads say they are more determined than ever not to sign.

A report from Millvale says the yards of the West Penn road are completely tied up. Forty men are out at that point. The strikers say their ranks number almost 400. The company officials make light of this statement, and say if it were true no trouble would be experienced in filling their places. It is expected that all railway unions will endorse the strike.

RELATIONS SEVERED.

Bogota, Colombia, Nov. 27.—The government has issued a decree declaring diplomatic relations with Venezuela severed.

DIRECTUM

The Famous World's Champion from 1893-1900 Brought $12100 at Sale.

New York, Nov. 27.—Directum, the world's champion trotting stallion from 1893 to 1900, with a record of 2:05 1/4, was sold today for $12,100 to the International Stock Farm of Minneapolis, Minn., at the Madison Square Garden sale.

Few Turkeys.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 27.—The city is in the throes of a turkey famine on the verge of Thanksgiving. Few plump turkeys are to be had at any price. Thousands of families will have to go without any turkey at all.
Prices jumped from 16 cents to 18 cents per pound today.

NAMED AFTER FRED DOUGLASS.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 27.—An election is to be held in a suburb of Pratt City, on December 14 to decide upon the incorporation of Douglass, Ala.
This will be an all negro town if incorporated and will be run by negro officials.

BARRYMORE NOT DEAD.

New York, Nov. 27.—Reports published this morning that Maurice Barrymore the famous actor, was dead are untrue.

Marriage and colic are two things that doubles us up.

STUDEBAKER

The Prominent Indiana Manufacturer and Philanthropist, Died About Noon Today.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 27.—Clem Studebaker died at 11:50 o'clock this noon. Mr. Studebaker was one of the richest and best known men in Indiana noted alike for business acumen and philanthropy.

COLUMBUS BOARD OF TRADE.

Columbus, O., Nov. 27.—The Columbus Board of Trade heretofore made up exclusively of business classes, last night adopted a resolution making mechanics and laboring men eligible to membership. In a resolution it is stated that closer communion between capitalistic and laboring classes is necessary for the promotion of the best interests of all.

Favors McGovern.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 27.—The betting on the McGovern-Corbett fight tomorrow is 10 to 6 in favor of Mc-Govern today. Both men are in the pink of condition.

BONINE TRIAL.

Witnesses Testify to the Sobriety of Young Ayres on the Night He Was Killed.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Several witnesses testified today in the Bonine trial to the sobriety of Ayres the night he was killed. Deputy Coroner Glozebrook told how he found the body, with the hands before the face, palms out, as if trying to ward off danger.
Attorney Douglass representing
Mrs. Bonine on trial for Ayres' murder said today: "Thus far the prosecution has made out no case against our client."

There is talk that the court may be asked to take the case from the jury if there is no stronger evidence offered against Mrs. Bonine.

Much progress was made yesterday, eight witnesses being heard and cross examined, making a total of 22 thus far called by the government. If there should be no interruption Thursday on account of Thanksgiving, it is quite likely that the prosecution will rest its case about Saturday evening.
This morning Justice Anderson had not definitely decided whether or not court shall sit on Thanksgiving day.

STARTLING

And Decidedly Novel Way in Which a Pretty Cincinnati Girl Tried to End Her Life.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 27.—A most extraordinary attempt was made to commit suicide by Florence VanCleve. She tried to literally blow herself out of existence. Miss VanCleve is 20 years old, single, handsome and having a home comfortable in every way. Yesterday afternoon Miss VanCleve went shopping and purchased a quantity of gun powder. Returning home she repaired to her room. Here she removed her street clothing and donned a house wrapper. Her next move was to take a long pitcher which she placed on the floor and poured into it the package of gunpowder. Then she sat down upon the vessel; then striking a match she dropped it into the mouth of the pitcher. An explosion followed which shook the house. Mrs. VanCleve rushed to her daughter's room and found her writhing on the floor, severely burned. The girl was taken to a hospital and may recover. A love affair was the cause of her attempt on her life.

MRS. MCKINLEY'S INCOME.

Canton, O., Nov. 27.—The appraisers of the McKinley estate have fixed the annual allowance of Mrs. McKinley, pending settlement of the estate, at $8,000. Her income from her own property will reach probably $5,000 or more. If she is given a pension of $5,000 by the government as is Mrs.
Garfield, her total income will reach about $20,000 a year.

JURY

AFTER MANY HOURS FINDS DIAMOND GUILTY

OF FAILING TO SUPPRESS A DIS- ORDERLY HOUSE.

THE CAPTAIN WAS FINED $1000

And This He Promptly Paid—The District Attorney's Comments on the Jury's Verdict.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 27.—Pale and haggard from sixteen and a half hours' close confinement, the jury in the case of Thomas J. Diamond, the New York police captain, charged with wilful neglect of duty in failing to suppress the disorderly house of Lena Schmidt in the Red Light district, came into court at 9 o'clock this morning with a verdict of guilty.

Justice Herrick fined Capt. Diamond $1000 or to stand committed to the Albany penitentiary (all the fine was paid. Diamond, however, paid the fine immediately.

New York, Nov. 27.—District Attorney Philbin was more than pleased that Captain Diamond had been convicted. He said that as far as he knew this was the first conviction of a public officer for neglect of duty that has ever been obtained by this county.
Philbin said today: "I regard the conviction of Captain Diamond as extremely important. The impression appeared to prevail in the police department that no matter how flagrant the neglect of duty might be, it would be impossible to bring the offender to the bar of justice unless it could be proven that he had received monetary consideration as an inducement for the violation of his official oath."

"This conviction has undoubtedly established a wholesome precedent that will have a deterrent effect for many years."

Calls It Failure.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—The mother of the 'Ormsby Quads' has petitioned for divorce. She has given birth to fourteen children in six years. Her husband fled before the arrival of the last four. She says marriage is a failure.

JUDGE

Is Bound That His Bench Orders be Respected—A Habeas Corpus Writ issued.

Akron, O., Nov. 27.—The authority of Judge J. A. Kohler, of the Common Pleas court, and that of those in charge of the Lancaster Reform School collided, and by a swift turn the Judge has gained the upper hand.
The Reform Farm authorities refused to release Frank Bisson, a boy sent there a year ago for complicity in the riot, upon Judge Kohler's order. The latter had been persuaded to pardon
the boy, and, having sentenced him, asked his release of the Lancaster authorities. It was refused point blank. Judge Kohler's righteous indignation caused him to issue a writ of habeas corpus for Bisson, and Sheriff Kelley and attorneys have been sent to Lancaster to secure the young man, whatever the school authorities do to prevent it.

Good Stuffing.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Nov. 27.—Mrs.
Ella Willis of this city, has received a dressed turkey from her sister, Mrs.
Mary Culver of St. Louis. The turkey was stuffed with a certified check for $10,000, a Thanksgiving present to Mrs. Williams.

Demand Ransom.

Budapest, Hungary, November 27.—
Pestihirlaps' Sofia correspondent says
the brigands, who hold Miss Ellen M.
Stone, the abducted missionary, have sent a message stating that they have taken a solemn crucifixial oath that they will kill the missionary, unless the full ransom is paid by Christmas.

The reciprocity treaty most needed by the people of the United States, the Kansas City Star says, is a treaty with the consumers of this country. At present Americans are paying more for a good many kinds of American made goods than the consumers or users in other countries are giving for the same manufactures. The people of the United States have been very submissive to the abuses of an obsolete and oppressive application of the high tax theory. That is the reason that the protective tariff has brought forth that obnoxious and arbitrary brood, the trusts, to take Mr. Havemeyer's family tree as authority.

Attention is called by an exchange to the fact that President Theodore Roosevelt is one occupant of the White House in whose name the letter "a" does not appear. Not only has that letter appeared in the names of all previous presidents, but also in the names of nearly every one of the sixty-one Americans who have received votes for president in the electoral college down to William J. Bryan. There are only eight exceptions to this rule.

The people of Florida are looking forward to a winter of large prosperity, because their orange orchards are again in fine condition after years of blights from the arctic frosts in the orchards, and they hope to secure handsome profits by extensive shipments of the golden fruits to northern cities. The people of the north will be glad to pay good prices for generous quantities of the true Indian river oranges. No part of the world ever produced anything more luscious.

IN CUBA

General Masso, Candidate for President. Petitions Roosevelt to Keep Out the Americans.

Havana, Nov. 27.—That part of the National party which is supporting General Bartolome Masso, the Democratic candidate for the presidency of Cuba, has voted to send a cablegram to President Roosevelt asking the latter to recommend the representatives of the United States in Cuba to observe the strictest impartiality in the approaching election for a Cuban president. General Gomez, in an open letter to the Cuban people, advises all Cubans to vote for Senator Palma, and says if they fail to recognize Palma's intelligence and ability to fill the office of president, he does not feel called upon to stump the country in Palma's behalf. The followers of General Masso are elated over the refusal of General Gomez to stump the country for Senator Palma, as this was the great card of the latter's supporters.

Miner to Outlanders.
Durban, Nov. 27.—The outlander committee has issued a report of their interview with Lord Alfred Milner, governor of the Transvaal and British high commissioner in South Africa. This report asserts that in this interview Lord Milner said that compensation to British subjects, on a general scale, would be impossible; that amount required would be so enormous that that the idea could not be entertained. With regard to the war debt the report says Lord Milner expressed his belief that the British government would not lay a heavy burden on the Transvaal.

Bodies Washed Ashore.
New York, Nov. 27.—A dispatch from Tomis River, N. J., says that five bodies have washed ashore from the five barges stranded along the coast. Four of the barges have gone to pieces. The fifth lies on the bar, tossing about and pounding. She will probably break up within a day or two. Only two men have been saved from the five barges, but no one at Tomis River knows how many were drowned.

STATE NEWS

HAPPENINGS IN ALL PARTS OF OHIO.

All Sorts of Buckeye News Items Boiled So that Only Real Facts Remain.

Cleveland—Louis Meyer, a barber, of 384 Holton street, was held up by four men and robbed of overcoat, coat, vest, collar, tie and cuffs and $2.50.

Toledo—Mayor Jones yesterday signed the first franchise ordinance in five years since he has been mayor of Toledo. A sum of money equal to his demand was paid for the privilege.

Springfield—Arthur B. Bancroft, a newspaper man, who has done work on the Columbus (Ohio) papers, and who was recently employed on the Dayton Press, was arrested here last night. He amused himself running in and out of doctors' offices frightening patients.

Bridgeport—A smallpox epidemic is feared here because so many people were exposed to three developed cases. One case is in a boarding house where 18 men were quarantined. These men are gradually getting away from the guards around the house.

Findlay—The Dorney-Harris tile company's plant that burned a few months ago was sold to James Esler of Tarentum, Penn., who announces he will at once erect a $60,000 plant for the manufacture of brick, tile and tile roofing.

Otawa—Pearl McClish, aged 35, a resident of this place, Wednesday hired a horse and buggy to drive to Leipsic, seven miles north of here, stating that he would return in the evening. Efforts to locate him have failed.

Canton—Samuel N. Sweitzer is under arrest here charged with desertion from the regular army.

Findlay—The marriage of Eugene C. Palmer and Miss Mabel Mitchell, daughter of R. Y. Mitchell, a wealthy oil operator, solemnized here.

Springfield—William Ream, 74 years old, of North Hampton, was killed by a Big Four train.

Tiffin—The Colonel Julius A. Kuert Command of Spanish-American War Veterans was organized in this city with 17 charter members.

Steubenville—Fred Feed, aged 16, was caught between two dump cars at the New Hope tin mill works and fatally crushed.

Ottawa—Judge Donnelly sentenced George Arnold, Louis Lair and Wm. Palmer each to five years in the penitentiary for burglary.

Celina—Perry Beckdolt is missing. He left home near here Friday with $250. Foul play feared.

Toledo—Coal men predict a coal famine here.

Warren—Creditors of the Continental Iron company elected W. D. McKeefry of Lectoria, trustee to succeed R. S. Henderson, resigned. The trustee was authorized to spend $30,000 for equipment.

Ashland—Ex-City Clerk A. B. Phillips, under arrest for the alleged embezzlement of $10,000 of city bonds, was given a preliminary hearing and bound over under $2,000 bonds.

Toledo—Judge Barber has allowed Anna MacBroom, wife of John C. MacBroom, late member of the Ohio Legislature, temporary alimony of $5 a week and $25 attorney fees.

Bucyrus—Sheriff Vollmer has offered a reward of $700 for the arrest of any or all of the cracksmen who blew open the safe of the Citizens' Savings Bank at Tiro on Oct. 14.

Toledo—The will of Douglas Waite, brother of the late Justice M. R. Waite, was filed. He leaves his library, one of the most extensive in Ohio, to the Y. M. C. A.

Findlay—The local stonecutters association announced that beginning May 1, 1902, they would demand an eight-hour day and an increase of five cents an hour.

Youngstown—Geo. Nichols, a farmer from Columbiana, came to this city with a load of hay. He was found badly beaten and may die.

AN AGREEMENT AT THE LODGE

"It is rather hard on a woman to have her husband get home at 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning," said Hawkins. Hawkins is the past grand imperial emperor and potentate of Silver Moon lodge No. 57.

"I'll tell you what we'll do," he went on. "We three chaps will agree, if you say so, when we go home this morning—it's half after 1 o'clock now—to do whatever our respective wives suggest. We ought to do something to even things up. What do you say?"

"The chap who fails to do exactly what his wife suggests or even hints at must buy the supper for the crowd," said Hawkins. "Are you all in on it?" The three pledged their assent.

They met one night less than a week later and Elliot said: "Well, Tompkins, how did you come out?"

"All right," said the little man. "The supper isn't on me. It was 3 o'clock when I got home. I was getting along all right, and it seemed certain that I would get to my room on the third floor without disturbing a soul, when my foot struck a chair standing on the stairs. The chair turned over and went rattling and bumping down the stairs."

"Hello," called Mrs. Tompkins. "I suppose that is you, Henry?"

"Yes, dear," said the little man. "Well, she said, 'It's a wonder you wouldn't break the chair all to pieces.'"

"I remembered our agreement, and although it was hard work I finally got that chair broken up. The chair was hardwood and it took me a long time to do it, but there was mighty little left when I got through."

"And you, Elliott," said Hawkins sadly.

"I'm all right," said the magnificent interior sentinel. "I had nearly the same experience. I broke into the house without rousing anybody and was just about to go under the wire an easy winner when I stepped on Mrs. Elliott's pet Angora cat."

"Thomas," said Mrs. Elliott.

"Yes, dear," I answered. "I stepped on Clarence. He was sleeping here on the stairs, and I was trying to get up to bed without disturbing you."

"Well," said Mrs. Elliott, "it's a wonder you wouldn't kill the poor dear."

"With our agreement in mind I took her suggestion as a command and after some difficulty finally got a firm hold of Clarence and of my revolver."

"A cat has nine lives, you know, but I finally succeeded in carrying out my wife's wishes in the matter."

"Hawkins, it's up to you."

The past grand imperial emperor heaved a deep sigh.

"I've got a long story to tell," he said. "Let's put it off till we have more time."

But the other men were relentless.

"I don't mind confessing," he began, "that I went home determined to stick one of you fellows for the supper. In fact, I may as well admit that I had made arrangements before I left home that evening to get in by the side door, and I was sure not a soul in the house would hear me. I had it all carefully planned, and it wasn't at all my fault that it didn't work out as I figured."

"I stayed down town until 4 o'clock on purpose, because I knew that people sleep most soundly just before the dawn. Before I went in I walked all around the house and saw that there wasn't a light burning anywhere."

"I even took the trouble to look up the policeman on the beat, and he assured me that there hadn't been a light lit in my house since 10 o'clock. Under the circumstances I felt that it would be easy to get in without being caught at it. At the time I wouldn't have given you chaps a nickel for your chance of eating at my expense."

"Finally I let myself in at the side door without making a sound that could have disturbed a mouse. Then with a pocket electric light, which I always carry with me, I lit myself through library and drawing room to the hall."

"Then, like a wise man, I sat down on the steps to take off my shoes, so as to make assurance doubly sure. Just as I was pulling off the second shoe my foot slipped, and I kicked over the other shoe which I had set down on the stairs beside me. It went bumping down to the bottom, striking on every step with a racket which was frightful."

"Who's there?" cried my wife in a naturally startled voice.

"It's only me, dear," I answered in my most ingratiating tone. "I'm afraid I dropped one of my shoes."

"Poor goodness, sake," she said, "are you just getting home from lodge? What time is it, anyhow?"

"It's just about 12 o'clock, dear," I answered.

"Then the cuckoo clock in the library struck 4, and in order to make good I had to sit there on those stairs and cuckoo eight times more to make up twelve."

"Well, it's time you were home, at any rate," she said.

"I started up stairs again, going fast now, because I thought I might as well get inside my room and close the door before anything else happened."

"I was on the next to the last step when my toe caught on a loose bit of carpet, and I fell forward, only saving myself by putting out my hands, in which I carried my shoes. Of course the shoes made a terrible racket as they struck the stairway, and Mrs. Hawkins was roused to action once more."

"It's a wonder," she called, "that you wouldn't fall down stairs and break your neck!"

"That sticks Hawkins" from all—Chicago Tribune.

DISCHARGED

As the Jurors Were Not Able to Agree in the Lawyer-Sample Case.

Philadelphia, Nov. 27.—After deliberating for nearly 30 hours the jury in the case of John L. Sample, the Camden, N. J., lawyer who was tried in the United States district court here, charged with aiding and abetting counterfeiters, were unable to agree and were discharged by Judge McPherson. Sample was accused of having assisted Arthur Taylor and Baldwin S. Bredell in the manufacture of plates from which were printed $20 counterfeit notes. Taylor and Bredell are awaiting sentence for their part in the famous Lancaster, Pa., revenue stamp counterfeiting case. The charge against Lawyer Sample was that he had induced the two young men to make counterfeit plates in prison with the intention of surrendering the plates to the government, hoping thereby to have their sentences in the Lancaster conspiracy reduced.

New Baseball League.

St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 27.—A new baseball league to take in Minneapolis, St. Paul, Kansas City and Omaha in the west and Milwaukee, Indianapolis, Columbus and Toledo in the east was formed here, and the revolt of the Western league was ended, an agreement having been reached between President Hickey, W. T. Van Brunt, owner of the St. Joseph club, and George Tebeau of Kansas City. President Hickey will resign at the annual meeting of the league to be held next week, and his successor will be appointed. Van Brunt will give up his St. Joseph franchise since St. Joseph is to be placed in the minor league, and Tebeau, it is said, will go with the Denver team.

Mysterious Shooting.

Salt Lake City, Nov. 27.—William Hayes, traveling out of Chicago for Keith Brothers, was shot and probably fatally wounded by Roy Kaighn, the 19-year-old son of Colonel M. M. Kaighn, who is prominent in law and Grand Army circles of this city, in the lobby of the Knudford hotel. Young Kaighn was immediately placed under arrest and the wounded man conveyed to a hospital. Young Kaighn refuses to give any reason for the shooting of and mystery surrounds the affair. Hayes, the wounded man, acted as best man for Colonel Kaighn at the latter's wedding several months ago.

Apple Figures in a Romance.

Pana, Ill., Nov. 27.—Miss Zola Ransom, daughter of a Pana fruit grower, and Walter Derringer, a young farmer living near Kokomo, Ind., will wed Thanksgiving day, the union being the result of a card attached to an apple shipped from this city to Kokomo, last season. On the card were these words: "This apple was picked by Zola Ransom, Pana, Ills. Findor may write to me." This led to a correspondence. A personal interview, which was mutually satisfactory, followed, and a wedding on Thanksgiving will be the result of the wooing so strangely begun.

Gang's Diabolical Work.

Colombia, S. C., Nov. 27.—From further reports received, the killing of Mrs. Rachel Powell was by a gang of young men residing in the wildest part of Oconee county, 150 miles from here. Six men have been arrested, including four brothers named Hudson. Wesley Powell, husband of the murdered woman, it is said, recognized them when they attacked the house. The cause of the attack has not appeared. Mrs. Powell was fired upon as she showed herself in her doorway and was killed instantly. No assault was made on her husband. The woman was over 60 years old.

Choctaw Judge Condemned.

Paris, Tex., Nov. 27.—Hotema, th Choctaw judge, who is charged with murdering three persons because he believed them to be witches and responsible for the deaths of a number of children who were afflicted with meningitis, was convicted of murder in the federal court. If the case is affirmed by the supreme court he will hang.

Compressed Air Let Go.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Nov. 27.—Bradley Meeks and Henry Ferguson were fatally injured in the oil fields of Ritchie county by a compressed air explosion in a natural gas pipe of the Mountain State Gas company. The air was being used to clean the pipe. The men were blown 200 feet and for over 5,000 yards the pipe was torn up.

New York News Sold.

New York, Nov. 27.—Frank A. Munsey, the publisher, has purchased a controlling interest in the New York Daily News from Mrs. Benjamin A. Wood. The sale, which was arranged by C. M. Palmer, was finally concluded. The purchase price was not made public. Mr. Munsey recently bought The Times of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Dr. H. McNeal of Ann Arbor, Mich., returning from Europe, was washed overboard off the Jersey coast and drowned.

Appraisement of the McKinley estate shows that the late president died possessed of money and goods aggregating $135,890.18, of which $60,132.15 was life insurance.

A QUESTION OF ETHICS

By Barry Pain.

"Look here!" said James Robinson. "I often tell you a lot of things you don't know, and you write them out, and that goes into a paper. You told me so yourself. Does this paper pay you anything for what you get from me?"

"It does," said the interviewer.

"I forget the precise amount. That is all arranged by my agent. I try to get away from the merely commercial side, and—"

"Walker! As it happens, I asked a friend of yours the other day what you were paid, and he said he didn't know, but you weren't worth it. Do you ever ask yourself if you're worth it?"

"Really," said the interviewer, "this is a purely personal matter and does not concern you in the least, James Robinson. What I wanted today was to elicit your views."

"Don't run away from it. You wanted to elicit my views, cork them down on a sheet of paper, sell them and then keep the money yourself. And you say that doesn't concern me in the least. Oh, rats!"

"I assure you I am merely following the usual custom in my profession."

"Ducky fine custom, too—for the profession."

"And it is always open to you to refuse an interview."

"I don't want to be hard on anybody. Fair play is all I want. Now, what exactly do they pay you for?"

"Because by many years' experience and very hard work I have acquired a considerable knowledge of technique, a bright and engaging style and a—"

"Oh, my aunt! You don't think anybody would pay money for all that skill. What they pay for in these interviews is the real stuff, and the real stuff ain't you; it's me."

"You forget that I also record my own remarks and observations."

"You do! I dare say you do a bit too much of that. But you wouldn't get along without me. If I wasn't there, you couldn't do an interview with me. And if you did—well, I believe the law comes down pretty sharp on that kind of thing. It wouldn't be worth while to risk it. Now, suppose I've got a lot of apple trees and you've got a shop, ought you to take my apples and sell them in your shop and keep all the money yourself? That's how I put it. That's common sense."

"Suppose, also, that the apples are of no use to you and that you are quite unable to sell them yourself. I've no objection to the argument from analogy, supposing that the analogy is complete."

"I'm not going to be scared off by your talking like Euclid. You're making so much money that you don't even know how much it is. You owned up to that, you know, and I'm in a pretty bad way. First I put up a dollar on a raffle for a revolver. Then I put up my watch in the swimming bath, and the man at the shop says—"

"Hold on," said the interviewer. "Why did you put your watch in the swimming bath?"

"That's pretty simple. I wanted something to dive for, and another chap said he'd put his watch in if I put in mine. His is going as well as ever, which doesn't seem fair, since he proposed it. Things don't happen in a fair way as a general rule, and I like fairness when I can get it. That's what led me on to speak about these interviews. Now, suppose you tell me what you think my share ought to be."

"I don't think," the interviewer said, "that it's a good thing for a small boy like you to have a lot of money to waste. Your father wouldn't like it. But I think you would be ethically justified—"

"Keep it long!" murmured James Robinson sarcastically.

"Ethically justified in suggesting that I should start a small bank account for you, which in after-life—"

"Don't you worry about that. I don't. What worries me is not having any money in my clothes now."

After some further discussion an arrangement was made which was regarded as satisfactory by James Robinson and relieved the immediate financial pressure.

"And look here," he said, "if there's anything else you're bothered about any time and want to elicit views about, just come along to me, and if I can help you I will. I've read political bits in the papers before now, and I never mind saying what I think. I've got into more rows than most boys through that—just through saying what I thought. Hypocrites get on in this world. There's a housemaster's wife that will ask any boy to tie if he says he's keen on daffodils. I have to sit outside, and I don't care. Well, don't say anything to the governor about the money."

"I've tried to make an arrangement to which your father would not greatly object."

"Yes, I know all that. It's not objections I'm thinking about. But don't you see, if he knew what I was getting from you he might take that into consideration, and I've just written to get him to spring another ten bob."

The interviewer expressed disapproval in severe terms and left—Black and White.

The Winemuckee.

The Winemuckee is a beautiful lake lying just east of the Sierra Nevada mountains. It is famous for its salmon or wine colored fish, the term "winemuckee" signifying in the old Indian "wine colored" or tinged with color.

Winnee is the aboriginal name of a river in South Carolina, its waters so darkly tinged that it is now commonly called the Black river.

FIRST CAR

On the Buckeye Lake Electric Railroad Came to Center of the City Wednesday.

This morning the first electric motor made the trip from Hebron to the Y. M. C. A. building, over the Buckeye Lake road, arriving at Third street at 9 o'clock.

It is one of the 60-foot cars and had a track cleaning device which threw the dirt from the rails on either side like a snow plow.

It had been arranged to run a car into the city several days ago and the exact hour was announced by the company, but plans were changed and the first car did not come down town until Wednesday morning.

TRIP

AROUND THE WORLD WAS A BIG SUCCESS.

Five Houses Decorated to Represent Different Nations--How the Trip Was Made.

A "Trip Around the World," given by the members of the Home Missionary Society of the First Methodist church Tuesday evening, was thoroughly enjoyable. Five of the members of the society had fitted up their homes to represent five different countries, and the object was to start from one point and visit all the different countries during the evening. The countries represented were America, at Mrs. John Sachs, on West Church street; France, Mrs. John Goodwin, West Church street; Japan, Rev. A. E. Johnson, North Fifth street; Germany, Mrs. George Stratton, North Third street; China at Mrs. Sisson's, on West Main street. All these places were beautifully decorated, and all taking part were dressed to represent as nearly as possible the respective countries.

America, as represented, was exceedingly fine. "Long Tom" Jones represented "Uncle Sam" and attended the door. The hall was decorated with the National colors and colonial pictures and decorations graced the walls. The chief decorations were the Liberty bell and the White House made of handkerchiefs, wigs, wands, Indians, plantations and negroes.

When the tourists reached France he was greeted with the sight of the guillotine, with the body of a girl lying beside it with her head cut off. The representations of the Empress Josephine and Napoleon were very good. Punch and wafers were served here.

The decorations of Japan were Japanese lanterns and umbrellas. The principal attraction was a typical Japanese market, filled with all kinds of vegetables. A fan drill by four young ladies dressed in Japanese costume elicited many commendations. Tea and wafers were served by beautiful Japanese ladies.

Upon arriving at Germany, the familiar sight of pretzels and weinermurst greeted the tourist, while many curios that had been brought from the Fatherland were ranged around the rooms. Mrs. George Conrad, represented a German woman, who made her living with her grind organ. She was seated in a corner turning the organ and eagerly gathering in the pennies. German kitchen and coffee were served.

China was decorated in bright colored bunting and flags, together with figures to represent Chinese idols, while the floors were covered with oriental matting and the walls were draped in oriental drapings. On entering the dining room the tourist was invited to set down on a hassock and partake of tea and rice.

A laughable feature in connection with the affair was the troupe of traveling musicians, who serenaded the tourists while traveling through the different countries.

ror of fire was added to the sufferings of the imprisoned ones.

The property loss, according to Secretary George W. Childs, is about $180,000. The firm carried $70,000 fire and some boiler insurance, but how much of the latter Secretary Childs could not state. Subscriptions for the relief of sufferers have been started. Nothing is known as yet about the cause of the explosion. The boilers had been recently inspected, and the engineer was known as one of the most careful and capable of men.

THE POLICE SLATE.

"Waxie" White was taken to the police station Tuesday afternoon in a state of intoxication, by Officers Zergiebel and Rinehart.

Dan Madigan was arrested by Officer McCrum for being drunk on the street.

Officers Zergiebel and Rinehart arrested Charles Dewar for drunkenness.

Miss Carpenter was found on the streets drunk by Officer Jacobs and was taken to the city prison.

William Ogden of McLean Co., Illinois, has bought of J. F. Bellevue of Wichita 180,000 acres of land in Western Kansas, which will be converted into the largest wheat field in the world.

CRACK SHOT

ABLE TO BRING DOWN GAME WITH BLANK SHELLS.

His Brother Elks Played a "Mean Joke" by Exchanging Shells Before Start Was Made.

Mr. W. D. Fulton, the well known attorney, and Exalted Ruler of the local lodge of Elks, is an enthusiastic and skillful Nimrod. The fact is, he is probably the most skillful hunter in Licking county as it requires proficiency in the highest degree to bag game with a shot gun under the following circumstances.

Mr. Fulton on Monday night last purchased a box of shells, intending to go hunting on Tuesday on his farm in Bennington township. He dropped into the Elks' club rooms and soon engaged in a game of pool, setting the shells down in another room. Always ready for a joke, Dr. D. M. Smith, George Graesser and others, took the loaded shells over to Tracy's grocery and exchanged them for a box of blank cartridges.

On Tuesday, morning bright and early, Mr. Fulton started out for his day's sport. He "tramped the hill up and the hill down," and made some excellent shots. The dog did his work and looked from time to time wonderingly at his master, which look changed toward evening to one of disgust, as his work had been in vain.

After the day's "exercise" W. D. returned to the city and this morning was asked by his friends:

"What luck, Winnie?"

"O, just fair," replied the hunter. "I only killed 14 quail and two rabbits, but then that vicinity has been hunted over this season too often."

"The game in Bennington township is mighty accommodating," chimed in Col. W. C. Wells. "They do fall at the report of the hunter's gun, sometimes. Glad you had good luck, though, Winnie."

But W. D. could not see the joke, and it is said that he will not know of the "mean trick" that was played on him till his eye strikes these lines.

Auditor Pitzer has a theory of his own regarding Mr. Fulton's success in killing the game he did with the blank cartridges. He says the birds hadn't found out that Winnie's cartridges were blank.

"STRAY NOTICE"

FILED BY MR. EVANS WITH THE CLERK OF COURTS.

Recorded in Book That Has Been in Use 50 Years--Volume is Little Used.

Mr. Eleazer Evans of Granville township filed Monday with Clerk O. C. Latason a "stray notice" of a red short-horn cow weighing about 1200 pounds, and a red calf weighing about 800 pounds. This notice was recorded in the "Stray Record" the only book of the kind in the clerk's office, and one that has been in continuous use for over 50 years.

The first stray notice recorded was by John Lewis, of St. Albans township January 7, 1850. It was as follows: "A red bull with white spots, brand on left shoulder, right ear cropped and piece from the under side, also a notch from the under side of left ear, about 2 years old and of small size."

The next notice is a bay horse advertised by Jesse Lake of Liberty township, in January, 1850, and the third is a heifer taken up by Samuel Grove of Newark township in February 1850.

There were formerly more stray notices filed with the clerk than now. There were seven filed during the official term of S. J. Ewing and six since Mr. Larason's term began.

THE WARDEN'S KIDS

By M. QUAD.

[Copyright, 1901, by C. B. Lewis.]
Convict Renfew arrived at the state prison in company with a bad record. When arrested for robbery, he had stabbed an officer; while waiting trial he had broken jail; when sentenced he had tried to assault the judge; as the irons were fastened on his wrists and ankles preliminary to his journey he had sworn to kill any official of the prison who attempted to "rush" him. In addition to his record, which would count against him on the prison books, he had the look and bearing of an obstinate, dangerous man. If any proofs were needed that he meant to make trouble, he furnished them himself as he stood in the warden's office during the recording of his pedigree. After sulkily answering a few questions he burst out with:

"Look here, now, but they got the wrong man. I am not guilty, and I don't propose to creep and crawl to no one. If you start in to be rough with me, you'll find me a bad man."

"And let me say to you," replied the warden, "that if you give me any trouble I'll have the hide flogged off your back!"
Renfew had been sentenced for fifteen years. With never a day of "good time" to his credit--with only black marks showing against his name--with a punishment more or less severe two or three times per week, he earned the reputation of being the bad man of the prison. In the course of a year, as shown by the prison records, he had not done an hour's work. He had passed fully half the time in the dark cells, and his outbreaks and whippings ran up to thirty or more. It was after looking over this record that the warden went to the convict's cell and said:

"Renfew, I am tired of the way things are going. I am here to run this prison according to rules, and you have either got to come to time or I'll make a jabbering idiot of you. You give me more trouble than all the other men put together."

"Listen to me," calmly replied the convict. "I was not guilty of the robbery, and my arrest and conviction were a blunder. I told you so the day I entered here, but you sneered at me. I hate you, and you hate me. I'll do all I can to keep you in hot water. And as for your threats and punishments, I defy you."

A week later Renfew headed a mutiny that was quickly suppressed, and then it was whispered about the prison that he was dead--yielding up his life under punishment. This was not true, however, though he was close to death's door when the warden's hand was stayed. He was sent to the hospital with a spark of life left, and it was three long months before he could limp about. His ugliness and obstinacy came back as he grew better, but the doctor shielded him and carried him along until one day there was such a flagrant breach of discipline that it had to be officially reported. That meant a new punishment on top of the half healed scars, but when the guards came to take him from the room Renfew was not to be found. He had in some manner passed out of the prison with a crowd of visitors. There was a hue and cry at once, and the warden was among those who took up the chase. The convict had only half an hour's start, but luck was with him. They beat up the town and its suburbs in vain. Fifty men covered the roads and traversed the fields, but the fugitive seemed to have taken wings.

A fortnight before the escape the warden had sent his two motherless children to pass a few weeks in the country with an aunt. On the morning of the second day of the search he drove out on this road and at high noon was within a mile of his little ones. His horse had fallen lame, and he was proceeding slowly and missing no opportunity to make inquiries when a great dog overtook and passed him with a growl. The animal was flinging its head about and foaming at the mouth, and there was no doubt of it being a case of hydrophobia.

The warden stopped the horse and stood up in his buggy and looked. Between him and the farmhouse were two children playing by the roadside--his Bob and Susie. The mad dog had passed him, but would it pass the children without inflicting a deadly bite? The man tried to cry out, but he was voiceless. He thought to leap down and run after the dog, but he seemed helpless to move. The mad beast was within a dozen rods of the children and had swerved from his straight course to attack them when a man who had been hiding in the reek weeds of the ditch scrambled up onto the road. He was facing the dog, and he hadn't five seconds to understand the situation. It must have come to him like a flash for he shouted to the children to run and turned as the dog sprang upon him. They went down and rolled over and over together, and by and by the warden shook off his chains and sprang down and ran forward. The struggle was over when he reached the spot. The man was Renfew the convict, and his throat had been torn open. Even in death, however, his two hands clutched the throat of the dog, and the beast lay gasping and dying. The children came running and crying his name, but the warden did not heed them. He dragged the mutilated corpse of the convict on to the grass and sat down beside it and wept.

The Lesson of Love.
Our lives would be better, our thoughts nobler, our hearts larger, our faith more real, our words more charitable, if we would, once for all, learn the lesson of the law and the prophet, which is not to glide along the razor's edge of scholastic dogmas or to wear formulas threadbare by conventional iteration, but to love God and to do good to our neighbor.--Farrar.

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA.

A CURE FOR IT.

Not a Patent Cure All, Nor a Modern Miracle but Simply a Rational Cure for Dyspepsia.

In these days of humbuggery and deception the manufacturers of patent medicines, as a rule, seem to think their medicines will not sell unless they claim that it will cure every disease under the sun. And they never think of leaving out dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They are sure to claim that their nostrum is absolutely certain to cure every dyspeptic and he need look no further.

In the face of these absurd claims it is refreshing to note that the proprietors of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have carefully refrained from making undue claims of false representations regarding the merits of this most excellent remedy for dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They make one claim for it, and that is, that for indigestion and various stomach troubles Stuart's Dyspeptic Tablets is a radical cure. They go no farther than this and any man or woman suffering from indigestion, chronic of nervous dyspepsia, who will give the remedy a trial will find that nothing is claimed for it, that the facts will not fully sustain.

It is a modern discovery, composed of harmless vegetable ingredients acceptable to the weakest or most delicate stomach. Its great success in curing stomach troubles is due to the fact that the medical properties are such that it will digest whatever wholesome food is taken into the stomach, no matter whether the stomach is in working order or not. It rests the overworked organ and replenishes the body, the blood, the nerves, creating a healthy appetite, gives refreshing sleep and the blessings which always accompany a good digestion and proper assimilation of food.

In using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets no dieting is required. Simply eat plenty of wholesome food and take these Tablets at each meal, thus assisting and resting the stomach, which rapidly regains its proper digestive power, when the Tablets will be no longer required.

Nervous Dyspepsia is simply a condition in which some portion or portions of the nervous system are not properly nourished. Good digestion invigorates the nervous system and every organ in the body.

Any druggist will tell you Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give universal satisfaction. 11-27-29 12 16

A Job For the Tailor.

It was a little Fifth ward boy who was walking on the street with his mother when his attention was attracted by a dog who wagged a stub that showed he once possessed a tail. "Isn't it too bad," said the mother, "that the doggie has lost his tail?" "Yes," replied the little fellow sadly, and then, brightening up, he asked, "But, mamma, why don't they take him to the tailor's shop?"--Elmira Advertiser.

Bright Tom.

Tom--Which animal would you choose for throwing a little light on the subject?

Dick--What subject?

Tom--Any subject.

Dick--I can't think.

Tom--The tapir--Judy.

Later.

Having used the word "kick" in its slang sense, little Clarence was taken to task by his mother.

"You shouldn't say that word."

"That's true, mamma, I shouldn't."

It's more up to date to say "kneek."

Didn't Want to Rust.

"Mamma," said a little five-year-old as his mother was giving him his bath, "be sure and wipe me dry so I won't rust."--Christian Advocate.

Naughty Raindrops.

Some little silver raindrops, living in a cloud, were growing very selfish. And, oh, so very proud!

They did not like the world below. And they wouldn't try to live in any other place. Thus a cloud up in the sky.

They hid the moon, they hid the stars, They hid the sun, too. And said they'd sail in their little boat All through the skies of blue.

But the south wind laughed, "Ha, ha!" And shook that soft gray cloud, And down it came in a lighted shower Tumbled the raindrops proud.

Course of Entertainments for the Season—How Many Tickets Do You Want?

The Hospital ladies have secured an array of talent for the entertainment of the Newark people that simply astound. In fact no city in the state brings so many big things at once, and the ladies hope to wipe out the debt of the hospital. Just look at the list of great artists that will be heard for $1.

Hildegard Hoffman, New York City's great soprano. She alone is a big attraction for any city in the United States.

Kathryn McGucken, Philadelphia's greatest contralto and soloist in the cathedral.

E. Elsworth Giles, said by many to be the finest tenor in the east, shared honors with Blauvelt at the Maine festivals and outgave his reputation.

Edward Brigham, New York City's bass profundo, and sings bass for the Mozart Club of Pittsburgh in December in their production of the Messiah at $150 for one performance.

Reahard, the piano soloist, of Pittsburgh, will accompany these four great artists.

Ernest Gamble, America's popular basso.

Frederick Morley, the Australian pianist, first season in America, arriving October 1st, after spending three years with the great Leschetzki.

Grace Jenkins, the violinist, now two years with the Ernest Gamble company three years a pupil in Berlin.

The Persian Garden company, with Miss Rachel Freese soprano—an Ohio singer who has come to the front faster than any soprano in this country for years past.

Miss Winifred Reahard, contralto; Sam T. Beedoe, tenor; Daniel T. Moore, basso, and Julia T. Parks, pianist.

The hospital association agree to furnish all the above named artists on three different periods of time, commencing after the Holidays, for the almost nameless price of $1.

And to make a big financial success for the hospital the board of managers want 1,000 tickets subscribed before next Saturday night. Do not wait to be solicited. Send a postal card by first mail with the number of tickets desired, to any member of the board.

Winter Service to Florida and New Orleans.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE
—and—
SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Through service to Florida and New Orleans via the Queen and Crescent Route, Southern Railway, and connecting lines, will be inaugurated on a sumptuous scale this season. From Cincinnati three trains will be run to Florida daily, one via the Asheville route, through the "Land of the Sky", and the other two via Chattanooga and Atlanta.

On January 6th the Chicago & Florida Special will go into service for the season. This magnificent train, with dining cars, composite and observation cars, will carry through compartments and open standard sleepers from Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Toledo, Pittsburgh, Louisville and Cincinnati to St. Augustine without change.

The Cincinnati and Florida Limited which has heretofore run only to Jacksonville, will also run through to St. Augustine without change, with through sleepers from Chicago and Cincinnati, and through sleeper from St. Louis and Louisville to Charleston, S. C. via Herriman Junction and Southern Railway.

Sleepers in connection with the Chicago and Florida Special leave Chicago 12 p.m. daily except Sunday, via Pennsylvania Lines and 1:00 p.m. via Big Four Route.

The superlative work of Pullman service, the unsurpassed food and equipment, the evident intention of all the lines interested to give the traveler to New Orleans, Florida and the winter resorts the best products of American railway practice promise for the traveler comfort en route that have never been equaled.

WIFE

Of Rathbun a Jeffersonville Woman
Claims to be—Prisoner Confronted by Woman.

Louisville, Nov. 27.—If Mrs. Lillie Stanley Muir Talbert, who lives with her mother at 434 West Market street in Jeffersonville, Ind., is acquainted with the man she married in Jeffersonville on Saturday night Sept. 8, 1900, that individual is Newell C. Rathbun, now in jail on the charge of having poisoned Charles Goodman. Mrs. Talbert visited Rathbun. The prisoner walked out of his cell and was confronted by the woman. Quickly she said: "You are Edward Talbert, my husband." Rathbun gazed steadily at the woman, then replied, "I am not Edward Talbert, so I can not be your husband."

Mrs. Talbert was asked: "Are you positive that the prisoner is your husband?" "Absolutely," was the answer. "I talked with him and I know that he is the man who married me and a week later deserted me. The last I heard from him was when he was in Manila." The letter was written March 6. It is said the writing in the letters Mrs. Talbert has resembles Rathbun's in some respects. Several persons who knew the husband of Mrs. Talbert say Rathbun is not the same man.

Troops Marching on Colon.
Colon, Colombia, Nov. 27.—The overdue passenger train with a marine guard on board, has just arrived here. The train brings news to the effect that General Alban, with about 300 government troops, has crossed Barbacoa bridge and is continuing his march on Colon. He is now at Taverilla, where he is resting. The Liberal forces continue to retreat before him. They explain their retreat by saying they have no ammunition. All of the day's fighting occurred at Barbacoa bridge. Passengers by the delayed train assert that fully 100 Conservatives were killed and wounded during the fighting there, and that the Liberal losses were insignificant. The Liberals are now approaching Gatun Station, about five miles from Colon, and it is believed a decisive engagement will probably be fought at Monkey Hill cemetery, distant one mile from the limits of Colon.

Race Riot Recalled.
Springfield, Mo., Nov. 27.—Joe Lark, colored, charged with the murder of Miss Gazele Wild in Pierce City some months ago, was acquitted in the circuit court at Mt. Vernon. Miss Wild, a respectable young white woman, was assaulted and murdered and her body thrown under a railroad bridge. When her body was found the excitement became so intense that all negroes were forced to flee for their lives. One negro was shot down in the streets, another was lynched and a third was fatally wounded as he fled from his house, to which the lynchers had applied the torch. All of them were innocent. Lark was barely spirited away to Springfield in time to save his life. The identity of the murderer was never learned.

Mansfield Stands by America.
Baltimore, Nov. 27.—In the course of a discussion of the criticism of the American players by the St. James Gazette of London, Richard Mansfield, who is playing here this week, said: "The acting in England is by no means as subtle and delicate as that seen in the United States. American audiences are not only highly intellectual, being infinitely superior in that respect to England, but they are pure-minded and well-bred. It is absolutely ridiculous to assert that an English performer could be 'coarsened' by appearing before such cultivated and distinguished assemblages as we have in every part of this country, east or west, large communities or small."

Congressional Caucuses.
Washington, Nov. 27.—The Republican members of the house of representatives will meet in caucus Saturday at 2 o'clock for the purpose of nominating house committees. There is no contest and Speaker Henderson and other elective officers will be re-elected. It is expected that there will be quite a sharp contest over readopting the Reed rules. All the afternoon and evening, if necessary, will be given to discussion of the subject. The Democratic caucus will be held at 11 o'clock Saturday to nominate minority candidates and also to name the few employees conceded to the minority in the house.

Escaped Convicts Corralled.
Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 27.—Warden McLaughlin has received word of the capture at Tusculum, Ala., of James Seymour, one of the convicts who escaped from the Leavenworth prison during the recent making. Captain Telford will leave to bring him back. Word was also received that a posse of deputy marshals has surrounded Kating and Murray in the Shawnee hills, in the western portion of Indian Territory. These men are desperate and a battle is expected.

In 1850 the area of the national domain occupied by the Indians aggregated 116,000,000 acres; today it aggregates 85,000,000 acres which is about as much land as we have in the states of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Day City, Mich., Daily Tribune of October 2, 1901, said:
Two Large Audiences—Humpty Dumpty drew them to the Opera House yesterday. Old and familiar, yet ever new as the brain of the theatrical genius evolves tricks of illusion and impression, Humpty Dumpty came back for two performances at the opera house yesterday.

Cornell's Humpty Dumpty is in many respects superior to any that has been here before. The scenery is fresh from the famous Dayton scenic studio, Dayton, Ohio, and a carload of it was stowed upon the stage for the presentation yesterday. Every set is a marvel of coloring and the various pieces have all sorts of new trick attachments. The personnel of the company is high. Eddie McDonald is one of the funniest personages who ever entertained local audiences and the advance agent's claim that every specialist is an artist in his line, was fully borne out. The acrobatic specialties were especially good, as were a number of vaudeville turns. Little Fanny Plumb, who enacts "Butterfly the Queen of Light's attendant, endeared herself to the audience, with her cute songs.

The coral grotto, at the sea, is one of the prettiest stage pictures ever produced. The cost of the scenery and fixtures in this one set is said to be $8,000. At the matinee the house was crowded to the roof, the majority of the audience being ladies and children. The evening performance was also given to a crowded house. Humpty Dumpty at the Auditorium tonight. Thanksgiving afternoon matinee and tomorrow night.

WEATHER FORECASTS.

Farmers living along the routes of rural mail delivery will soon be furnished with daily weather forecasts. The Government Weather Bureau at Columbus is arranging a system of this kind at present. It is estimated that with the present extension of the service fully 80,000 farmers will be beneficiaries of this new system. Ere long with telephones, trolley lines and postal service, the rural citizen can enjoy the seclusion of his country home and yet be in touch with all the world. There are now 6,000 rural free delivery routes established in the United States and 6,000 more have made applications which are before the department.

LOST CHANCES

INGALLS TELLS OF REPORTER'S WASTED KNOWLEDGE

When Some One Complained of Missing an Opportunity of Making a Few Thousands.

(New York Times.)

M. E. Ingalls was talking the other evening to a company of his friends when some one complained of having missed making a few thousand dollars because he had been delayed in a Broadway jam when he was hurrying to his broker's. This reminded the railroad man of an incident illustrative of the fact that "there comes a tide," &c., and he told a story.

"I was stopping at the old Brunswick Hotel," he said "when a reporter sent up his card. I had known him for some years and liked him. He asked me some very difficult questions, which I could not answer for publication. I saw in a moment that he knew as much about the situation as I did, and my information was of no value. He saw that I knew he was right. His paper would not, and very properly did not, print anonymous interviews, and what he thought about the situation was not regarded by the managing editor as sufficiently warranted to announce as a fact. The paper did not deal in guesses. Nothing was printed.

"I saw the young man some months later, and he told me confidentially how he missed winning so large a stake that, with the additional information he had, he ought to have been one of those 'get-rich-quick' fellows who really do get rich. His work kept him up late. On going home he not only fixed his alarm clock to wake him early, but he pinned a great sheet of paper on his door with the time he must be called marked on it.

"He had been overworked and was utterly tired out. The alarm clock undoubtedly sounded its warning, which he did not hear, and the landlady was not at home. She had been taken ill at the house of a friend and had stayed there overnight.

"When he awoke it was to find that he had short time to get a hurried breakfast and then rush for the office. The Stock Exchange had just closed. There has been a fluctuation of seven points in the stock. He had known exactly what would happen, and was not a cent better off for that important knowledge. He took it all so cheerfully that I am afraid he will never make a financier.

"The same man evoked out of his brain a great railway combination. He looked at it as a news-story and not as a matter of great profit to himself. He went to see the late Calvin S. Brice in his office at 80 Broadway. The Senator was in a hurry and said he could give him just two minutes. The man wet his finger and drew on a dust covered mahogany table, with a rapid sweep, a map of the United States. Then he made with lightning like rapidity dots here and there indicating railroads, and he turned to the Senator, who stood with eyes wide open in astonishment.

"Absolutely correct," said Senator Brice. That fellow hurried to the afternoon news-paper where he was then employed. It was too late to get it in the paper in time to affect the market, but he wrote it for the evening edition. If he had gone with that shrewdly schemed knowledge, taken the few thousand dollars he had saved, opened an account and given the broker the tip, the two Mr. Brice not knowing their information, could have won a fortune the next day. He is a good reporter, but he is not likely to be a rich man."

The most wretched man on earth is said to be a monarch.—Norodom King of Cambodia. He has a gorgeous palace furnished according to the most expensive ideas, but he adheres to the customs of his ancestors, and sleeps on an ancient carpet in a kind of shed that has not been cleaned since its erection.

The Scribbling Bees

The most delightful garden which I have ever known was that of the village cure with whom as a little boy at school I used to spend my vacations. Such fine cabbage beds, bordered with crisp green lettuce, and all so carefully weeded, raked and swept! They were watered morning and evening before sunrise and after sunset from an old sandstone fountain, green with mosses and water cres, from which escaped by a thousand little holes threads of crystal and tiny singing rivulets.

Sarrasin, the gravedigger, held the office of gardener. At first this idea was offensive to my childish mind. The grass seemed to smell of death and the currant bushes to taste of the cemetery.

But in a short time I forgot about this, as there was rarely a death in the village. Sarrasin often remarked that his title of gravedigger was more a joke than anything else.

At the top of the garden, back of the old fountain, was a narrow strip of land, rather a lonely sort of place, where M. le Cure used to pass every moment not occupied with the duties of his sacred office.

From a distance I could watch him in company with the gravedigger, always moving about in an excited manner and making the most remarkable gestures. They forbade my approach. "M. le Cure does not want you," Sarrasin said. "There are only bees there."

In truth these mysterious hives filled the garden with buzzing bees, darting here and there the liveliest day, intoxicated apparently with pollen from the heart of the hollyhocks.

But why was I forbidden to look at the bees? At what strange work were the bees engaged in the company of a priest and a gravedigger?

One afternoon M. le Cure and Sarrasin were called quite a distance away to bury an old woman. Thus left alone, I could not control my curiosity another moment. With a beating heart I went straight to the forbidden ground back of the fountain. There I found a plot of dry, sandy soil, planted with rosemary, lavender and every variety of herb, all giving a grayish tint and giving forth a delicious odor as they crackled underfoot. A thick cloud of bees, shining like gold in the sunlight, indicated the corner where the hives were located. For Sarrasin had not lied to me—hives there were indeed, but what hives!

Picture to yourself an odd array of boxes, propped up one against another and only held in their places by a miracle of equilibrium; long boxes, arched boxes, boxes looking like fabulous monsters with arms and beaks! They were all pierced with holes through which the bees went in and out as tranquilly as though their homes were ordinary hives, but this fact did not reassure me, and, terrified by the unnatural appearance of it all, I fled back to the peaceful vegetable garden.

Ten years later a chance walk took me again to the village. I found the cure broken in health and much older in appearance. The gravedigger was dead. The little garden was almost a wilderness of herbs, but in the distance I heard, as in former days, the hum of bees. This recalled my adventure, and I resolved to make a clean breast of it.

On questioning the old cure he began to laugh and insisted upon showing me his hives. There they were in the same lonely little strip of land behind the fountain, all having the same odd shapes which had startled my childish eyes years before.

"It is an idea of mine," said the cure. "I have worked over it for twenty years. It has cost me quite a sum of money and a great deal of time, but I still hope for success."

Can you guess what the old man was working for and what had turned his hair prematurely white?

I will tell you to one that you must give it up.

He was determined to make his bees write in letters of honey, "Vive l'empereur!" It was for this end they had sipped the dew of morning, darling bither and dither in the green valley, gorging themselves with pollen and gathering liquid amber. Ah, if the bees had known! But the bees did not know.

In his office of cure the old priest had always had a certain amount of ambition and in the evolution of what he called his idea had nourished the most chimerical hopes. The thirteen letters once completed, he intended to nail them, yellow as the sunshine and embroidered in the fine hexagonal cells, on a board, the front of which should be carved to represent the Arc de Triomphe. This achievement should be exhibited in Paris, and the emperor could not do less than accord him a medal and make him an honorary canon.

But what endless trouble he had to arrive at this result! These impish bees were so capricious! Certain letters displeased them—no one knew why. The inhabitants of an L or an E would find their winding, twisted dwelling unnatural and inconvenient and would desert it, and there were other annoyances. The V of vive was already spoiled and running to waste, while the R of empereur had hardly begun to fill.

But at last the day came when all of the thirteen letters were finished in good shape. The worthy inventor, however, having one swarm over, decided to add an exclamation point. One month later the empire fell at Sedan, and the republic was proclaimed.

"What shall I do," said the cure—"give other letters to my bees? Alas, 'vive la republique' is rather long, and then monseigneur would not permit it!"—From the French.

Nerve Slavery

It is present-day conditions—heaping burdens of work upon the nervous system that tells the story—premature breaking up of health.

It tells why so many men and women, who so far as age is concerned, should be in the prime of health, find themselves lacking in the strength, the power, the vitality they once possessed. It is because that great motor power of the body, nerve force, is impaired. Neither will the heart, the brain, the liver, the kidneys, the stomach act right without their proper nerve force supply. Let any organ be lacking in this essential and the body begins to show the effects of it.

Some of the effects are:
Throbbing, aching head.
Sleepless nights.
Sudden startings.
Nervous twinges.
Brain fog.
Inability to work or think.
Exhaustion on exertion.
Flagging appetite.
Dizziness.
Nervousness.
Weakness.
Loss of flesh and muscular power.
Scurvy and other diseases.

And the Oldest Member of the Illinois House of Representatives Makes a Recommendation.

James H. Farrell of Chicago is one of the best known figures in the Democratic politics of that city. For years he has been marshal of the famous Cook County Democracy Marching Club, which has participated in Democratic campaigns in behalf of the states of the union, and which went to New York especially to assist in the election of Mayor Van Wyck.

Capt. Farrell is the oldest member of the Illinois House of Representatives in point of service, having been a member continuously since 1887. His constituents have elected him eight times. He has been a leader in that body from the beginning of his career and is one of the best known figures in Illinois politics.

Capt. Farrell is 59 years of age and one of the best preserved men for his years in the Illinois Legislature, despite his arduous and constant duties in that body. Mr. Farrell is engaged in the real estate business in Chicago. Under date of March 14, 1901, he writes as follows:

Are the Conditions in the Boer Camps, Boer Preacher Makes an Address in New York.

New York, Nov. 27.—The Rev. D. Van Brockhuysen, a Boer preacher, addressed a meeting of Boer sympathizers here. He declared the Boers would never surrender, and then devoted most of the remainder of his talk to a description of the concentration camps. He said: "There are 34 of these camps along the line of the railroad. They are surrounded with barbed wire fences 10 feet high, and outside of those fences armed British soldiers are on guard. The women and children sleep on the bare ground, in tents or open barracks. They are allowed one-half pound of meat, one-quarter of an ounce of coffee, two ounces of sugar and a little salt every day. They are practically living skeletons. The death rate is 260 in 1,000, while the death rate among the children is 433 in 1,000. Unless some remedy is effected there will be no children left."

World's Tort Bodies Agree.

That an agreement between the leading horse racing bodies of England and the United States of America will be made whereby the authorities of the turf will have control of all racing affairs, has been settled beyond the shadow of a doubt by the recent statement made by August Belmont, one of the organizers of the Jockey Club of America and for several terms president of that organization.

Mr. Belmont is now in England and has had important conferences with the authorities of the English turf. He also visited France, where he talked with the leading men in French racing affairs and, as was stated afterward by French turf writers, induced the French Jockey club to agree to an arrangement whereby the relations between the French and the American turf shall be reciprocal.

Mr. Belmont saw the English turf authorities on the same matter and from all reports obtained an agreement on the subject. When seen, he declined to talk further than to state that he had discussed turf affairs with the officials of both the English and the French turf and that they had displayed the most friendly spirit toward the Jockey Club of the United States.

Of the women who recently took competitive examinations in Washington for positions in the Civil Service over 77 per cent passed, as against 62 per cent of the men.

BIG SMUGGLING SCHEME UNEARTHED

Goods Are of the Most Beautiful and Costly Kind and Wealthy Persons Were Compelled to Disgorge—Tom Johnson's Latest Move—Other News of the Buckeye State.

Cleveland, Nov. 27.—Detectives from the treasury department of the United States government believe they have unearthed one of the most extensive smuggling schemes in the history of the country. They estimate that $100,000 worth of furs have been smuggled into this country from Canada, and of this quantity about $25,000 worth have been confiscated by the government from some of the most fashionable people of northern Ohio. Collector of Customs Charles L. Leach and his deputies have charge of the work of confiscation. The victims live in Youngstown, Canton, Massillon, Cleveland and other northern Ohio towns, but Collector Leach refused to make public their names.

The furs are of the most beautiful and costly kind. One lot recovered from Youngstown cost at least $1,500. One big firm in Montreal is accused of sending goods into this country and avoiding the duty. They were shipped, it is said, to White River Junction, Vt., a small place on the Canadian border. From this point they were sent by express to their destinations. Mr. Leach says the members of the fur firm are under indictment in the United States court in Vermont, charged with smuggling. The United States detectives believe there is much more of the property in the United States outside of northern Ohio. The collector says the discovery prevented the smuggling of some $40,000 worth of furs that were just ready to be shipped.

Johnson's Mandamus Suit Filed.
Columbus, O., Nov. 27.—Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland has filed in the supreme court of Ohio his petition to mandamus the state board of equalization of railway taxation to equalize the valuation of steam railroads according to their property value, which would mean an increase over the present appraisal of railroads for taxation.

Brace of Accidents.
Columbus, O., Nov. 27.—Fred Segar, 30, a plumber, was struck by a train at a West Side crossing and instantly killed. Gottfried Lepps, an elevator expert of Louisville, met with a fatal accident in the new Spahr building on Broad street. While peering down an elevator shaft a descending cage crushed his head and neck.

Brutally Beaten By Robbers.
Athens, O., Nov. 27.—John Lemon, a wealthy merchant at Frost, a village near here, was held up in his store by two robbers and brutally beaten to compel him to open his safe. He refused to do so and the robbers left without getting into the safe.

Library to Y. M. C. A.
Toledo, Nov. 27.—The will of Douglas Waite, a brother of the late Chief Justice M. R. Waite, was filed here. He leaves his library, which was one of the most extensive in Ohio, to the Y. M. C. A.

In True Parisian Style.
Paris, Nov. 27.—At the corner of the Boulevard des Capucines and the Place de l'Opera a husband shot his faithless wife and her lover in full view of hundreds of people. The opera square was filled with promenaders at lunch time when a cab drove across the square, followed by a man running. A policeman regulating the traffic stopped the cab in front of the Cafe de la Paix, enabling the pursuer to overtake it, when the man drew a revolver, thrust it through a window of the vehicle and fired twice, killing the woman who was inside. The man inside the cab, the woman's lover, opened the other door and tried to flee, but the husband sprang after him and blew out his brains before the spectators could interfere. Then the husband approached the policeman, handed him the weapon and surrendered. All the actors in the drama belong to the working class.

McGovern-Corbett Mill.
New York, Nov. 27.—After eight days' hard training for his battle with Young Corbett of Denver, Terry McGovern took a 19-mile run in the vicinity of Jerome park, and despite the fact that it was freezing cold, with a strong wind blowing, he covered the distance in 90 minutes. When he reached his training quarters he was examined by a physician, who declared that the little champion was in perfect trim for the coming contest. Terry will reach the ringside at Hartford weighing not more than 124 pounds. Several people have informed McGovern that in Young Corbett he will meet the toughest and most rugged opponent of his ring career.

Killed by the Marshal.
Ardmore, T. Nov. 27.—James Watkins, 44, a Chickasaw full-blood Indian and jailer at Tishomingo, was shot and instantly killed by City Marshal Walter Van Novy at that place. Watkins was, it is alleged, attempting to kill Peter Mickie, a resident of Tishomingo, when he was shot by Van Novy.

More Tetanus Victims.
Camden, N. J., Nov. 27.—Two more deaths from tetanus following vaccination were recorded in this city, making a total of nine deaths from that disease during the past three weeks. The victims were Ada Heath, aged 13, and Georgiana Overby, colored, aged 9.

FOOT BALL

MUTES PLAY THE NEWARK TEAM HERE TOMORROW.

Strong Game at the Eleventh Street Ground at 3 O'Clock—Denison Boys Go to Dayton.

Tomorrow at 3 p. m. sharp there will be a game of foot ball played between the Mutes of Columbus, Ohio, and the Newark Athletic club, at the grounds at Eleventh street.

The Mutes are recognized as one of the fastest amateur teams of the state, and have been beating everything they have played. Last Saturday as a great many people are aware, they played the strong Denison team to a standstill, the final score being 0 to 0.

It has been with a great deal of trouble and expense that the Newark boys have secured such a strong team for their patrons to witness, at the Mutes and Athletic team both have a record for playing clean ball it is anticipated that a good clean game, void of slugging and dirty playing, will be played.

All people who think foot ball is the most brutal game played, should make it a point to witness this game. It will change their opinion. Foot ball really seems harder to the spectators than it is to the players.

Foot ball is one of the most popular sports of the day, as it teaches a man to act quickly and exercise the brain as well as the muscles of the body.

Let everybody turn out and help root the Newark team to victory.

Of course you cannot rattle the Mutes by yelling, but you can encourage the Newark boys so that they will play the game of their lives.

As there is but a small admission fee of 25 cents, it is hoped that a large crowd will turn out to encourage the boys.

The line up:

The line-up of Independents follows:

Double Tragedy.

Terrell, Tex., Nov. 27.—At the small town of McCoy, Tex., J. A. Hearst shot and killed his brother. Three children of the dead man were near the house and the murderer attempted to shoot them, but they sought refuge in the house of a neighbor and frustrated him. Hearst then turned the revolver on himself and blew his brains out.

Lodge on Chinese Exclusion.
Boston, Nov. 27.—The Post prints the following telegram from United States Senator Lodge at Washington: "I favor the Chinese exclusion act and intend to introduce a bill for its extension."

Kitchener Wants Officers.
Calcutta, Nov. 27.—It is said here that Lord Kitchener has again applied for a number of staff officers from India, to be sent forthwith to South Africa.

FIRST of ALL—Reciprocity With Cuba

By Senator HENRY CABOT LODGE

It is well to remember that reciprocity, whether brought about by treaty or by legislation, is an integral part of the protective system. The advocates of protection have always asserted that their policy would give us the home market. That has come to pass. We also declared that with the home market secure and strong we should enter upon an expanding trade with foreign markets. Here, too, we have been justified by the largest volume of exports ever known which has come under the words of President

Lo, "Reciprocity is the our wonderful industry the domestic polished." Without reciprocity is impossible. cannot make reciprocity other nations because give. The United States, being a protectionist nation, is able to make reciprocal arrangements with other nations because it has something to give in exchange for corresponding advantages.

FIRST, AND MOST IMPORTANT OF ALL IN MY OPINION, FOR POLITICAL AS WELL AS FOR ECONOMICAL REASONS, IS RECIPROCITY WITH CUBA.

The prosperity and development of that great island are important to the United States in a degree second only to the welfare of one of the states of the Union. A moderate reduction in our duties on her two great products, sugar and tobacco, which will give her a reasonable preference in our markets as against foreign countries, will not only secure to us a practical monopoly of her increasing market, but will bring to Cuba itself wealth and security.

Passing from Cuba, where the reasons for reciprocity are peculiarly strong, we come to the treaties now pending in the senate. There are eleven treaties in all. It is by no means certain that the reciprocity that we all desire cannot be better and more quickly obtained by a general law than by a series of treaties which would give us a different tariff with every nation in the world. It should be remembered also that the articles mentioned in these treaties affect nearly every schedule of the tariff and that the industrial interests of the various states which are thus touched by the proposed treaties are most anxious in regard to the effect they will have upon our domestic markets.

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS is commended by Statesmen, Professional men and thousands of others prominent in the world's activities, for its fine discrimination in sifting the actual news from conflicting report and the presentation of current events in their just proportion. They comment on its freedom from daily-paper sensationalism. All men and women who want to know what the world is doing find it an intellectual necessity, to judge from the letters received from hundreds. Its editorials are comprehensive, and labor saving to the busy man or woman. Its timely contributions on important topics are by the best-informed writers. Its reviews of other magazines give the best of their best work. It is profusely illustrated.

These letters will enable all thoughtful men and women to judge of its value to them:

PRESIDENT
"I know that through its columns views have been presented to me that I could not otherwise have had access to; because all earnest and thoughtful men, no matter how widely their ideas diverge, are given free utterance in its columns."—Theodore Roosevelt

EX-PRESIDENT
"I consider it a very valuable addition to my library."—Grover Cleveland

"It is a publication of very great value. I have sometimes found there very important matter indeed which I should not otherwise have discovered."—George F. Hoar, U. S. Senator, Massachusetts

"I am a constant reader of the 'Review of Reviews,' and appreciate it very highly indeed. I think it a very important part of my library, and practically a necessity for every man or woman. Its timely contributions on important topics are by the best-informed writers. Its reviews of other magazines give the best of their best work."—Charles W. Fairbanks, U. S. Senator, Indiana

"I do not have a great deal of time to read magazines, but I take pleasure in saying that the 'Review of Reviews' is among the number which finds a place on my table each month."—James K. Jones, U. S. Senator, Arkansas

JONATHAN

By Forley Poore Sheehan.

Jonathan Harrod and I were chums and roommates in college. Jonathan was in love and used to advise me to fall in love too. "I tell you, old man," he would say when opening a letter of familiar blue, "when you are not feeling well and the world grates on you like a camel's hair shirt, there is nothing so good as an old fashioned love letter."

They must have been tender and sympathetic, but withal a dash of ambition and inspiration in them. No tale of village gossip could have brought that light into Jonathan's eyes or that flash of color to his cheek. At their conclusion he would dream awhile perhaps and then fall at his books and work like mad.

He showed me her picture one night. She was dark, with a high forehead and shadowy eyes. The mouth and chin were both well formed, but rather masculine. It was a beautiful face, though not pretty.

Although Harrod had loved the girl all his life—and she him, if there be a misunderstanding of some sort or other during the summer that followed his graduation. When he returned east the following autumn, he was quieter than ever before and, if possible, more gentle and sympathetic. He and I had rooms together, where, in lieu of other inexpensive pastimes, we were wont to spend the evenings working and reading. I saw from the first that something ailed him, and as he no longer received the blue envelopes or counseled me to lose my heart I guessed the reason and asked no questions.

He did not become apathetic. Jonathan didn't. His old habit of work was stronger than ever. And now his stories began to appear occasionally in the magazines and the dear public to recognize his name and to read what went with it.

Two years had passed away before Jonathan had made even the slightest reference to this love affair of his, and that was when he came into my room one cheerless, gray November afternoon the picture of abject melancholy.

In his hand was a crumpled piece of paper. This he placed before me on the table; then he went and seated himself before the fireplace, where I could not see his face. The paper was a clipping from some inland journal describing in florid terms the wedding of Miss Winifred Conover to one Amos Schenck. Only half the article had been clipped evidently, and this had been pasted on a half sheet of note paper.

I read the tawdry effusion through; then I twisted it to pieces and dropped it into the wastebasket.

"Jonathan, my boy," I said, going over and seating myself on the arm of his chair, "who sent you this thing?" "I do not know." And there was a world of sadness in his voice. "The envelope was addressed in a strange hand, and not a word accompanied it."

We were both silent for a moment. The logs were burning cheerily; outside the wind was blowing a gale. Jonathan sat with his face in his hands. "When I came here to you just now," he said, "I was chilled and lonely—the day is so sober—and I had been tramping all over the country, and—well, I came to say goodbye. I wanted to leave this life and wait for Winifred in the next, for"—his voice went straight to my heart—"ah, Billy, I love her so!"

"You lie down here on the lounge before the fire," I commanded him, "and stop this brooding." I pushed forward the couch as I spoke, and he dropped on it like an obedient child. He gave me one grateful look and then, under the influence of the genial warmth and the fatigue of many vigils, fell fast asleep.

Whether or not I dozed I cannot say, but suddenly I was aware that some other than Jonathan was in the room. I raised my eyes, and there, to my infinite surprise and astonishment, I saw standing opposite me, across the table, a stylishly gowned young woman.

I started to my feet with an apology on my lips, but as I glanced at her face my tongue was tied, and I remained silent. She was dark and with a high forehead and shadowy eyes. The mouth and chin were both well formed, but rather masculine, and she was beautiful, though not pretty.

"Miss Conover!" I exclaimed. "Yes," she answered, with a voice that was low and vibrant, "it is I." Then, with the color mantling her cheek, she continued:

"I have just arrived in the city. Yesterday I learned that an ancient enemy of Jonathan's sent him a paragraph from an account of cousin's wedding, and"—the color increased, then quickly subsided—"knowing Jonathan so well, I wished, if possible, to see him before the clipping reached him. And, you see, I knew you also knew him well."

Her lips closed tightly for a second, then curved into a smile. Two great tears started from beneath the drooping lashes, but were quickly intercepted.

I looked toward the place where Jonathan lay. A screen was between him and the visitor, and only his soft respiration betrayed his presence. I turned to Miss Conover.

"Jonathan loves you," I said. "Do you love him?"

Her eyes flashed with a womanly luster, but again her lips were firm. "For if you do," I exclaimed, pulling aside the screen with a single swift movement, "he is here."

"Jonathan!"

Then as I left the room I looked back and saw her kneeling at his side.

The South Aids The Negro's Elevation

By Professor W. H. COUNCIL, Negro and President Agricultural and Mechanical College for Negroes

IT SEEMS TO ME THAT ORDINARY WISDOM SUGGESTS A DISMISSAL OF THE RECENT WHITE HOUSE DINNER AFFAIR, AND COMMON CHARITY DEMANDS THE VIEW THAT NEITHER PARTY TO THAT ACCIDENT HAD THE REMOTEST DESIRE TO TEAR DOWN THE SOCIAL BARRIERS BETWEEN THE RACES IN THIS COUNTRY. I DESIRE TO TAKE THIS VIEW.

It requires no great acuteness of wisdom to see clearly that the white south has determined two things which it will support with its lifeblood: It will resist all attempts at social admixture of the races, whether by legal enactment or social suffering, and it will rule in all political affairs with the ballot or the bullet.

THE WHITE SOUTH HAS DECIDED THE SOCIAL QUESTION FOR ITSELF. Any contrary opinion from the outside is not only met with unanimous opposition, but arouses and embitters southern sentiment against the negro, although the negro may be an innocent party in the discussion.

The south is never stinted in its contribution to negro industry, education and religion. No people meet the appeals of charity for the negro with warmer and more liberal hearts. It aids in all right and proper ways in the elevation of the negro. The negro educator is a giant. Now, for the negro to step from the schoolroom into politics is a step from strength to weakness. For a negro to step over the social lines is a step from life to death.

It is also plain to every thinking mind that the very salvation of the negro race depends upon the rigid observance and enforcement of the social distinctions in the south.

THIS CASTE, FOUNDED ON COLOR, IS MET EVERYWHERE IN THE UNITED STATES AND, INDEED, WHEREVER THE ANGLO-SAXON IS FOUND. WHY NOT RECOGNIZE IT AS WE DO OTHER STUBBORN THINGS IN NATURE?

MISS ELLEN TERRY.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Common Cows For Beef Cattle.
It is not only possible to start with common cows as a foundation and build up a good herd of beef cattle, but it is one of the best moves that the average farmer can make, provided, of course, he has the common cows to begin with, says a Kansas correspondent of American Cultivator. There is no earthly reason why he should sell such a herd and proceed to put a lot of money in well bred cows. I should advocate building up the herd every time from common stock, so that one would gain experience while making improvements. Place the average man without experience in possession of a fine herd, and he will in most cases abuse it through ignorance. If a man cannot breed carefully enough to build up a herd, he cannot handle fine bred animals well enough to keep them up to their standard. If there is going to be any failure, it is better to have it out with the common herd, so the loss will be less keen.

Draining Wet Places.
Frequently wet places that produce more frogs and mosquitoes than any crop that can be planted can be drained with a good plow and team and a day or two with a shovel or hoe, says Farm and Ranch. It will always pay to do such work, because such places, well drained, are very fertile; also such areas frequently cause the neglect of the crops on either side, because when it should be cultivated the wet ground will not permit it, and when that becomes dry enough the other will be too dry for best results. We once drained a pond of about two and a half acres by digging a well in the lowest point down to a sand bed. All the water ran into this hole and disappeared. This will not work at all places. But the wet places should be made dry or dredged and converted into fish ponds.

Value of Corn Stover.
To illustrate what we said not long ago about the value of corn stover in those regions where corn is one of the principal crops we reprint a story from The Farmer's Guide of Auburn, Ind., which is said to have been told by a truthful man, a good citizen and a pillar of the church, says American Cultivator. Said he: "Last winter I wintered from the 1st of December up to the 1st of April, four months, 115 head of stock, made up of cows, young cattle, horses and colts, upon the corn fodder produced upon fifteen acres of corn, which yielded seventy-five bushels per acre, this fodder being all the roughage this lot of stock had." This statement hardly needs any comment, for it tells its own story. It is well worth thinking over by all men who raise corn and leave the stalks to waste in the field.

Saving Seed Potatoes.
An exchange says that if only the largest tubers in the potato crop are selected for seed the crop will be improved in quantity each year. We will not say that this is not true, for we have not tested it, but we do not believe it, says American Cultivator. If the grower will select well formed and mature tubers from the hills that yield the largest amount of merchantable potatoes when he is digging them, we think he will increase his crop, regardless of the size he selects. By selecting seed from the hills on which the vines remain green to the latest date he can prolong the growing season of the future crop, drought and accidents excepted, and by using immature tubers he can get potatoes earlier, but we would not expect from such seed a large crop or the best quality.

Keeping Up Fertility.
The ordinary farmer seems to look upon seeding down a piece of land as an expense which could be undergone only as often as is absolutely necessary in order to cut good hay and plow the land only when it has ceased to produce a paying crop. In fact, however, the offender a good sod can be turned under to decay and supply humus the better will the fertility be kept up. Money expended in grass seed with a view to maintaining fertility is far better investment than in purchasing fertilizers. And the more clover seed you can get in the better will this object be accomplished.

Mares on the Farm.
There is no good reason why mares should not be made to serve a dual purpose—work on the farm and raise colts, says Farmer's Voice. Under proper management they should give as good satisfaction in the harness as the horse gives, and the colts which may be raised nearly every year until the mares are along in the teens represent clear profit. In buying horses for farmwork buy mares—good ones of weight, depth, width and constitution.

Mangels For Dairy Cows.
The cow beet or mangel is considered one of the best and cheapest foods for dairy cows when fed as a part of the ration during winter, says a dairyman. They are superior to the turnip.

Land and Animals.
The hog is the animal for level, fertile grain land and the sheep for hilly, thin and worn land, as sheep graze closer to the ground than any other farm stock.

Farm Hints.
Keep only such horses as can be profitably used.
A brood sow should have strong, tough bones.
Variety in feeding belongs to profitable stock growing.
The bull is a dangerous animal, no matter how gentle he may seem.
The greatest losses on the farm from feeding stock come from small leaks.
In giving a hog medicine the best and safest plan is to give it in his feed.

MONEY IN IT

The Receipts of the Harvard-Yale Football Game Amount to Over $45,000

(New York Telegram.)

"Say," exclaimed the retired circus ticket seller, as he helped himself to the contents of the bean pot at a free lunch counter in Herald Square. "I've heard of some pretty good advance sales and some fair box office receipts in my time, but this Yale-Harvard football crowd makes them all look like a toy savings bank by the side of a big trust."

"How's that?" said his friend.

"How is it? Why, it's this way and plain enough. The place where they play seats 38,000 persons, and the receipts on Thursday night amounted to over $65,000, and the returns were not all in even then. Where are you going to get any circus or any opera house with a $65,000 crowd watching the show? Even the baseball games on their big days can't count up the ducats like that. Only the race track around New York can approach it, and there's only one in line at that, down at Sheepshead Bay."

"Sixty-five thousand plunks," said the other. "Gosh, what a lump of money. And that ain't all, either."

"I should say not," was the rejoinder. "The speculators will get hold of at least 1,000 tickets, and they will go all the way from $35 to $10. Then there will be the flowers and the dinners after the game and the traveling expenses, as some people go hundreds of miles to see the fun."

"Yes, and the small bottles," put in the other. "They amount to some thing. I bet there'll be 10,000 of 'em on the field."

"So there will, so there will," mused the other, "10,000 of 'em, all sizes; and I've seen the time that I would have swapped off a frock coat for one. Ten thousand of 'em, all sizes, and $65,000 and more at the gate. Who wouldn't be a football man?"

Want Whisky Tax Reduced.
Cincinnati, Nov. 27.—Representatives of the whisky interests of the United States held a meeting here, the object of which was to discuss the present taxation on whisky. The sentiment was absolutely unanimous as favoring the reduction of the present tax of $1.10 per gallon and for the extension of the allowance for evaporation or outage on goods made subsequent to Jan. 1, 1899. It was decided to draft a bill covering those two points and for having the same introduced into congress as soon as that body convenes. President John B. Thompson of the Kentucky distillers, who presided at the meeting, will prepare the bill.

Miners Again in Camp.
Madisonville, Ky., Nov. 27.—The latest report from the camp at Nortonville is that a contract was let by the union men to carpenters for the building of a temporary box house 20x100 feet. The building is to be used by the campers as a home during the winter, and they will claim it as their place of legal residence. There is a large number of union men in the vicinity who, it is thought, will join the camp as soon as the building is erected, and many are now coming in to lodge in new tents. Nothing can be learned as to further action of Judge Hall or General Murray.

Bank Safe Wrecked.
Valparaiso, Ind., Nov. 27.—The bank at Wanetsa was broken into by robbers at an early hour. The burglars effected an entrance to the vault and wrecked the big safe with explosives. An expert from Chicago arrived and is at work attempting to open the safe, the doors of which are jammed in. Until he finishes this work it can not be told whether or not the robbers secured the $10,000 in the safe. There is no clew to the burglars.

Mutineers to Be Tried For Murder.
Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 27.—United States Attorney Dean was here in consultation with Warden McCloughry of the federal prison. After the consultation Mr. Dean said that every convict that was in the mutiny would be tried for murder at the April term of the United States district court. Dean says each one of the 15 prisoners recaptured is guilty of murder, and he believes several will be hanged.

LOCKJAW

MAY CAUSE THE DEATH OF MR. EDWARD VANVOORHIS.

Young Farmer Living Near the Village of Martinsburg Suffering From the Awful Disease.

A prominent young farmer named Edward Van Voorhis living near the village of Martinsburg, is critically ill with lockjaw and Dr. J. F. Shrontz formerly of this city now practicing medicine at Martinsburg, thinks that the young man's chance of recovery is slight.

The patient is the son of Parker Van Voorhis, and is a married man and the father of five children.

About two weeks ago he began suffering severe pains in one of his great toes. The member continued to give him great pain and finally the nail came off. As he had not mended the toe the affliction was of a most mysterious character and no cause whatever could be assigned.

Friday night Mr. Van Voorhis began to suffer with very slight contraction of the muscles in his neck, relieved by stretching of the jaws. These spasms continued to increase until he could not open his mouth at all. A number of physicians and surgeons were called Saturday morning to see the case, and anti-toxin was administered in an attempt to overcome the dread disease.

However, all attempts proved in vain and the patient continued to grow worse steadily, each succeeding convulsion being more severe. At times when suffering these spasms the victim's head would be drawn backwards and his feet upwards until they almost touched.

The man's sufferings have been most awful to witness and the whole section in which Mr. Van Voorhis resides has been very much aroused by the case.

This is the first case of tetanus that has occurred in that vicinity for several years.

CENTRAL SCHOOL REOPENS MONDAY.

PATHFINDERS

Elected Officers at a Meeting Held on Tuesday Night and a Social Session Followed.

An interesting meeting of Pathfinder Lodge No. 79, of this city, was held at K. of P. hall on Tuesday night. There was a good attendance of the members, and under the direction of Dr. I. H. Robb, the business of the meeting was transacted. In regular form the following officers were elected: Past President, Philip A. Good; President, Charles I. Eagle; Vice President, Dr. I. H. Robb; Secretary, Joseph A. Martin; Treasurer, William F. Seymour; Chaplain, Miss Bostwick; Guide, Miss Maurer; Sergeant-at-Arms, Robert Scheffler; Inner Guard, Mr. Wymer; Outer Guard, Mr. Carrio. After the election of the officers, Dr. I. H. Robb, having business of importance elsewhere, left the meeting in the care of W. F. Seymour. Some time was spent in having a good social time, and after every one had been served with "quality on toast" an adjournment was had until the second Tuesday in December.

Bitten By A Dog.

Mr. A. J. Jones, who resides at 199 Clinton street, met with a very painful accident this morning. He was engaged in handling a seven months-old pointer pup when the animal suddenly bit him on the wrist, sinking his teeth into the flesh a quarter of an inch. The wound was promptly cauterized by Dr. Legge, and no serious consequences are anticipated.

Ovation to Schley.

Philadelphia, Nov. 27.—Rear Admiral Schley, who with Mrs. Schley, arrived here as the guest of Colonel A. K. McClure, was the center of an enthusiastic demonstration at the Broad street station of the Pennsylvania railroad when the Washington express rolled into the train shed. More than 1,000 persons were there to cheer the admiral when he stepped from the train and it was with much difficulty that the police opened a passageway for him to leave the station.

Water Scarce.

Topeka, Nov. 27.—Kansas is experiencing its second water famine for this year. From numerous parts of the state complaint is made that the water supply is practically exhausted. Water companies say that the situation, so far as the water supply is concerned, is as serious as last summer.

BUCKEYE ROAD

REORGANIZED, AND CAPITAL IS INCREASED.

Will Push Construction—Capital is Raised to $1,500,000—The New Officers Elected.

(Columbus Press.)

The stockholders of the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction company held a quiet meeting Monday and transacted considerable business of importance to the road. A new board of directors and officers were elected and it was decided to increase the capital stock from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000.

The newly elected directory is made up of S. Reed Anthony of Boston, a member of the firm of Tucker, Anthony & Co., which is largely interested in interurban roads in Ohio; Chauncey Eldredge, Boston; A. E. Appleard, Boston; W. R. Pomeroy, Coshocton, O.; F. Green Springfield; S. R. Denbar, Columbus, and F. W. Merrick, Columbus. At the close of the meeting of the stockholders the directory met and elected the following officers:

President, S. Reed Anthony; vice president, A. E. Appleard; treasurer, Chauncey Eldredge; secretary, F. W. Merrick.

The increase of the capital, Mr. Merrick said, was made necessary by reason of the road having to put in considerable expensive work which it had not contemplated. An overhead crossing at the Norfolk and Western will entail a great expense that was not originally looked for and several bridges will have to be replaced with railroad bridges. When these difficulties were encountered a meeting of the Boston capitalists interested was called and a thorough inspection of the line was made.

With the increase in the stock and the company on its new basis there is nothing to delay the work of construction, which is to be pushed to completion with all possible speed.

IN STATE

This Cat is Traveling to Florida—Velvet Lines This Feline's Bed as She Travels.

Waukegan, November 27.—Somewhere between here and Florida, traveling in state on a Pullman palace car, is a cat. Because a soulless corporation refused to take the risk of transferring it an extended Southern trip was delayed two weeks and the cat's owners almost came to the conclusion that it would be better to spend the winter in the North. But this could not be thought of, as tabby has symptoms of tuberculosis, and it was imperative, said the cat doctor, to get the patient away from the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wainwright own the animal which caused the split between them and the railroad. Some of the neighbors are mean enough to say they are glad the beast has gone away, as its ear for music was defective. However that may be the ticket agent of the Southern railroad at last gave way to the tears of Mrs. Wainwright and the importunities of her husband and a special cat edict was issued providing that the mistress of the feline should have built a cat bunk and engage an extra berth for the invalid. A reluctant consent was given by the railroad and trunks were repacked. On the train yesterday with the cat safely ensconced in a velvet-lined cage, the start was made.

HAZERS

At Work in Wallace College—Fences Scaled, Drills Gone Through, and Muddy Roads Crossed.

Berea, O., Nov. 27.—For the first time in many years the kidnapping and hazing of several students of German Wallace College, was indulged in a few evenings ago and despite the efforts of the students and faculty to keep the matter a secret it has been given publicity.

On last Saturday evening the sophomore class held a class party at Deitch Hall, the ladies' dormitory. As C. Stricker, W. Silverhouse, Rudolph Berr and Carl Riemenschneider, four sophs, reached the steps of the dormitory they were surrounded by about 35 preps and upper class men. The sophs showed fight, one of them drawing a revolver and shooting into the crowd, but before they could invoke the aid of their fellow classmates who were in the building, their hands were securely tied and they were led to the outskirts of the village.

They were then compelled to cross and recross muddy roads and execute various marches and drills through fields and over fences.

The action of the preps and upper classmen has been condemned by the faculty, and a wholesale suspension of students is anticipated.

Strong lights, with basins of petroleum below them, are now used in France to destroy nightflying insects that injure vineyards. As many as 1,868 insects have been caught in one night.

POSTAGE

IS TO BE ONE CENT AT NO DISTANT DATE

Declares Assistant Postmaster General Madden in His Annual Report—Figures Given.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Third Assistant Postmaster-General Edwin C. Madden, in his annual report, recommends the consolidation of third and fourth class mail matter; an increase of the limit of indemnity for the loss of registered matter from $10 to $100, and that postal employees be made liable for the value of registered matter lost through carelessness. The total postal revenues for the year from all sources were $111,631,727 less than the expenditures. This is exclusive of the cost of transporting the mails over the subsidized Pacific Railroads that have not yet settled their bonded accounts with the Government. The total value of stamped paper and stamp books issued during the year was $104,785,987. The issue of postage stamp books is regarded as a successful experiment. The 4,698,423 stamp books issued have cost the department $4.69 per 1,000 to manufacture. There were 659,613,890 postal cards issued. The amount of second-class matter mailed free of postage to actual subscribers within the county of publication practically 7 per cent of the entire amount mailed.

Mr. Madden says it is but a question of time, if the rate of increase of second-class matter continues, before it will consume most if not all of the revenue derived from other classes of mail matter. While second-class matter, combined with its necessary equipment, constitutes approximately two thirds of the combined weight of all the four classes of mail matter, it furnishes only slightly over 4 per cent of the revenue from all postage. About 50 per cent of this nominal and unsustaining rate Mr. Madden says is due to a construction of the statutes which has permitted the admission of a great number of alleged newspapers and periodicals which are merely pretensions. The principal abuses of the pound rate named by the report are sample copies, subscription books, return copies to news agents and premiums to subscribers, the latter being characterized as the king of abuses. The hope is expressed that the next annual report will show the second class of mail practically free at least the larger abuses. This reformation, the report says, may make one cent postage practicable at no distant date.
